DECREE.

*Opening of the Rivers Amazonas, Tocantins,

WITH a view to promote the aggrandizement of the Empire, ever facilitating its international intercourse more and more, and imparting animation to the navigation and commerce of its River Amazons, and to its confluent Tocantins and S. Francisco, having heard the opinion of my

Council of State, it is my will to decree as follows :—

Art. 1st. The navigation shall be opened to vessels of all nations from 7th September, 1867, of the River Amazonas, as far the frontiers of Brazil ; of the River Tocantins, as far as Cametá ; of the Tapajoz, as far as Santarem ; of the Madeira, as far as Borda ; and of the River Negro, as far as Manáos.

Art. 2nd. On the same date fixed upon in Art. 1st, the navigation of the River S. Francisco, as far as the City of Penedo, shall be opened.

Art. 3rd. In those confluent of the River Amazon, as and in the parts of same where only one bank belongs to Brazil, the navigation, as far as concerns their respective limits and police regulations, will depend on previous arrangement with the boundary States.

Art. 4th. The present dispositions in no respect alter the observances prescribed by the Treaties in force with the Republics of Peru and Venezuela, in conformity with the regulations already despatched for that purpose.

Art. 5th. My Ministers and Secretaries of State will carry out the agreement treated of in Art. 3rd, through the proper departments, and will expedite the necessary regulations for the effective execution of this Decree. Let Antonio Coelho de Sá e Albuquerque, of my Council, Senator of the Empire, Minister and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, so understand and cause it to be executed.

Colonel D'Arcy, of the Gambia Volunteers, states that this man and another, who was afterwards killed,—pioneers in the 4th West India Regiment,—answered his call for volunteers, with axes in hand, to hew down the stockade. Colonel D'Arcy having effected an entrance, Private Hodge followed him through the town, opening with his axe two gates from the inside, which were barricaded, so allowing the supports to enter, who carried the place from east to west at the point of the bayonet. Board of Trade, Whitehall, January 3, 1867.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade give notice that the “Moniteur” of the 29th December last, contains a report by the Minister of Commerce and Agriculture, together with an Imperial Decree, relative to the suppression of tonnage dues in French ports.

REPORT TO THE EMPEROR.

Paris, the 27th December, 1866.

Sire,

The law of the 19th May, 1866, upon the Mercantile Marine suppresses in principal the tonnage duty in all the ports of the Empire, from the 1st of January, 1867, and only maintains exceptionally its collection in the cases of the nations which in their ports subject French vessels to differential tonnage duties, that is to say, to charges from which their own vessels are exempted.

Under the influence of the legislation still in force, and anterior to the law of the 19th May, 1866, the tonnage dues in French ports are differential, that is to say, levied only upon foreign vessels, whilst French vessels are not liable to them. The Treaties of navigation which France has concluded with different maritime Powers have generally had the effect of according in our ports to the vessels belonging to those Powers, national treatment, that is to say, immunity from tonnage dues. But certain of these Powers levied tonnage rates at home, not only upon foreign vessels, but also upon their own vessels, so that in according to us in their countries, by reciprocity national treatment, they gave us less than they received, our vessels having to continue to pay tonnage dues in their ports whilst their ships were exempted therefrom in ours.

For this reason the Treaties referred to stipulated, that countries placed in this situation, should pay a special tonnage duty termed compensation-tax.

We have even gone so far as to have the compensation-tax paid in France not only to English ships, but to French ships themselves, and to those of all assimilated nations coming from England.

The Government of your Majesty has asked itself whether this complicated system ought to subsist in presence of the exact terms of the law of the 19th May, 1866, and of the literality of the doctrines which have guided the drawing up of that law and it has taken into consideration whether, with regard to Powers allied to us by spécial maritime conventions, there was room to subordinate the immunity conceded by the new mercantile marine system, not only to the abolition of all differential tonnage dues in the ports of these Powers, but to the abolition of the duties of a like nature which they collect upon their own navigation, so that the freedom should be everywhere absolute and reciprocal.

An attentive examination has induced us to decide this question in the negative.

Upon the one hand, in fact, the provisions of the law of the 19th May, 1866, are conclusive in spirit and in letter, to show that freedom from tonnage duty in French ports ought to be complete from the 1st January next, except with regard to nations which, in their waters, impose differential taxes upon our navigation.

It is to be remarked, in fact that the abolition of the tonnage dues has not for its motive the interest of foreign nations, but the interest of French maritime commerce, which has everything to gain by seeing the greatest possible competition of ships of all nations drawn into our ports by intelligent liberties.

From another point of view, if, conformably to the conventional duty which, it must be admitted, subsists in principle, independently of the general law, it were decided to maintain in France the special taxes successively established with the consent of the different Powers who have entered into agreements with us we should arrive at this singular result, that the ships of the countries remaining outside the conventional duty, would be better treated than the ships of Powers who have drawn near to us by the tie of a contract.

In fact, it is in conformity with the spirit as well as the terms of the law of the 19th May, 1866, only to require from foreign Governments reciprocity of national treatment, even when, in consequence of the application of this principle, foreign vessels should, like French vessels, enjoy complete immunity in France, whilst French vessels should remain subjected, like all national and other vessels, to navigation dues in a foreign port.

This principle once established the execution of the law upon the Mercantile Marine could not meet with any difficulty, and nothing would remain to consider but the form in which the application ought to be made.

It has appeared, Sire, that a decree of your Majesty was necessary to regulate the questions which are connected with our conventional system. In fact, as Treaties of commerce and navigation can only be applied in the Empire by virtue of Imperial decrees, nothing but an act equally emanating from the Sovereign can modify those same Treaties, even although the modification is an advantage and not a burden to the contracting party.

It is in this sense that the hereunto annexed project of a decree has been prepared, and I have the honour to submit it for the approbation of your Majesty.

Art. 1 replaces in the common duty all the countries which had consented to the establishment in our ports of a compensating tax for the duties levied upon our vessels as upon their own in their ports.

Art. 2 suppresses the tonnage duty which French and English vessels, as it has been said above, pay in our ports by virtue of the Treaty of January 26, 1826, and which equally affects all flags assimilated to ours by conventional Acts.

The Government of Her Britannic Majesty, having undertaken to present to Parliament in its next session a Bill for the purpose of abolishing all local taxes impressed with any differential character, there was no longer any motive for maintaining a tonnage duty which affected our flag quite as much as the English flag. It is, besides, to be observed that the English Government does not dispute our right to re-establish tonnage duties in the improbable event of the Bill in question not receiving the sanction of Parliament.

Finally, Article 3 retains upon all vessels of the United States of America arriving in our ports the duty of 5f. per ton, established by the Treaty of June 24, 1822. There is no question of reprisals, Sire; it is purely and simply the maintenance of an existing fact, which it depends upon the Government of the United States to cause to disappear, by according to our vessels the same treatment, which their own vessels enjoy in the ports of the American Union. Already negociations with this object in view are in progress at Washington, and there is every reason to hope that they will terminate successfully.

Such, Sire, is the object of the project of decree which your Majesty is solicited to sanction by your signature. It is in conformity with the liberal character of the law concerning the Mercantile Marine, the object of which is to attract into our ports the greatest possible amount of business. It is evident that merchaudise goes by preference to those places where it has the least charges to bear, and the suppression of tonnage dues in the ports of the Empire is a powerful means of attraction. If this truth needed any demonstration, I should ask your Majesty to permit me to cite the example of Marseilles. In that great port tonnage dues were suppressed after the re-establishment of general peace by an Ordinance of the 17th of September, 1817, and this equality of conditions between French and foreign vessels has caused no injury to the French marine, whose relative part in the maritime business of Marseilles has always been increasing.

This instance affords for the future of our commercial navy a point of comparison, and an example which should give security to all.

I am, &c ,

Armand Béhic.

DECREE.

Art. 1. The tonnage dues established in the nature of compensation duties by virtue of treaties and conventions, concluded by France with Denmark, the Dominican Republic, Portugal, Prussia, Sweden, and Norway, the Hanse Towns of Bremen, Hamburg, and Lubeck, are and remain suppressed.

Art. 2. French and English vessels coming from a port of Great Britain, or of her possessions in Europe, into any of the ports of the French Empire, shall be freed from the tonnage duty established by virtue of the provisions of the first Article of the Treaty of January 26, 1826. The same freedom shall accrue to all flags which are assimilated by conventional Acts to the French flag, and which, as such, coming from British ports into France, would have to pay the above-mentioned tonnage duty.

Art. 3. Until it shall please the Government of the United States of America to abolish, as it has done for its own vessels, the duty of 94 cents per ton levied upon French ships arriving in the ports of the American Union, vessels of the United States arriving in a port of the French Empire shall remain subject to the duty of 5f. per ton, conformably to the provisions of the 5th Article of the Convention of Commerce and Navigation of June 24, 1822.

Art. 4. The present decree shall receive its execution in all the ports of the Empire and of Algeria, from the 1st January, 1867.

Art. 5. Our Ministers of agriculture, commerce, and public works, and of finance, are charged, each as far as they are concerned, with the execution of the present decree.

Done at the Palace of the Tuileries, the 27th December, 1866.

NAPOLEON.

The following is a translation of the Law of the 19th May, 1866, with its accompanying Decree, referred to in M. Béhic's report to the Emperor of the 27th December, 1866 :—

LAW.

ARTICLE 1. All objects, raw and manufactured, including steam machinery, and parts of machines entering into the construction, the rigging, the equipment, and the maintenance of sailing or steam vessels destined for commerce, in wood or iron, shall be admitted duty free, subject to the condition of proving, within the space of one year, that the said objects have been applied to the use specified above.

Imperial decrees will determine the proofs and conditions under which this immunity will be enjoyed.

Every infraction of the provisions of these decrees will necessitate the payment of the duties which are or shall be levied upon the articles enumerated above ; and in addition, will be punished with a fine equal to three times the amount of the same duties.

ART. 2. The bounty accorded by Articles 1 and 2 of the Law of the 6th May, 1841, to steam machinery of French manufacture, intended to be placed on board national vessels destined for a maritime international navigation, is, and remains suppressed.

Nevertheless, the said bounty will continue to be allowed on apparatus which shall be duly proved to have been in course of construction previously to the promulgation of the present law.

ART. 3. Six months after the promulgation of the present law, sailing or steam vessels, rigged and equipped, shall be admitted to registration upon payment of a duty of two francs per ton measurement.

The same duty shall be applicable to hulls of wood or iron.

ART. 4. The tonnage dues established upon foreign vessels entering ports of the Empire shall be suppressed from the 1st January, 1867.

The tonnage dues actually collected, as well upon French as upon foreign vessels, and applied, as guarantee to the payment of loans contracted for improvements in French ports, are maintained.

A tonnage duty, not exceeding 2frs. 50c. per ton (decime included), and applying equally to French and foreign vessels, may be established with the view of meeting expenses of a similar nature, by Imperial decrees in the form of regulations for public administration.

ART. 5. Three years after the promulgation of the present law, the surcharges on the Flag at present applicable to merchandise imported from the country of production, in other than French vessels, shall be suppressed.

ART. 6. In cases where the French flag, in a foreign country, shall be directly or indirectly subjected, to the profit of the Government, of cities or corporations, to duties or other charges for navigation, importation, or exportation of merchandise, from which the vessels of the said country are exempt, such duties, or surcharges, as may be held necessary to compensate for the disadvantage to which the French flag is subjected, may be established by Imperial Decree on vessels of the said country, which enter ports of the Empire or of French colonies or possessions.

ART. 7. The preceding provisions are applicable to the colonies of Guadeloupe, Martinique, and Réunion.

Provisions specially applicable to Algeria.

ART. 8. The provisions of Articles 1, 3, and 4, of the present law are applicable in Algeria.

ART. 9. The navigation between France and Algeria, and between Algeria and foreign countries, may be effected by all flags.

The Coasting Trade from one port to another of this French possession may, upon permission of the Governor-General of Algeria, be performed by foreign vessels.

ART. 10. The surcharges for navigation established, in Algeria, on merchandise imported in foreign vessels, are suppressed.

The abatements of duties, granted by Article 9, paragraph 2, of the Ordinance of the 16th December, 1843, to certain goods taken from French warehouses and exported to Algeria in French vessels, are suppressed.

ART. 11. The prohibition established upon refined sugars imported from foreign countries into Algeria is removed. The said refined sugars shall pay, over and above the duty on raw sugar, a surcharge of five francs per 100 kilogrammes.

ART. 12. The laws, decrees, and ordinances which shall be opposed to the provisions of the present law, are and remain repealed.

DECREE.

ARTICLE 1. From the date of the promulgation of the present decree shall be admitted, free of import duty, conformably to Article 1 of the Law of the 19th May, 1866, with respect to the Mercantile Marine, all raw or manufactured objects entering into the construction, rigging, equipment, and maintenance of steam or sailing vessels, of wood or iron, destined for commerce.

Objects, such as moveable furniture, bedding linen, plates and dishes, cutlery, table glass, and, in general, all objects intended for personal use, shall not be considered as forming part of the equipment.

ART. 2. Ship builders, and manufacturers of objects destined for the construction, equipment, rigging, or the maintenance of vessels, can alone enjoy the benefit of the provisions of the present decree as far as raw materials are concerned.

With this view they will have to prove their title at the Custom-houses of importation.

ART. 3. Declarations made at the Custom-house for the admission of articles duty free, must bear, with respect to every kind of product, the indications required by the Custom-house regulations for the liquidation of the dues.

ART. 4. Importers should engage, by an undertaking guaranteed in due form, to prove, within a period not exceeding one year, that the raw material admitted free, or the products manufactured with such material, or, finally, the machines and machinery, detached portions of machines, and other objects completely finished and temporarily admitted free, have been applied to the use of vessels.

If, at the expiration of the term of one year, the before-mentioned proofs have not been produced, the Custom-house will liquidate the official fees, and take steps for their recovery, conformably to the third paragraph of Article 1 of the Law of the 19th May, 1866.

ART. 5. All declarations relative to machines and machinery, to detached parts of the same, and to other objects completely manufactured should contain the description of the said objects, in order to ensure identification, and this without prejudice to the stamp which may be applied to steam or other machinery, to pieces of machines, to boilers, to sails, and to such other objects as the Custom-house officers may think fit to apply it.

ART. 6. The incorporation into vessels of the raw material, or the placing on board of manufactured articles destined for construction, rigging, or equipment, shall be preceded by a declaration, specifying—1st, the nature and the weight of the raw material, as well as the manufactured products to be employed or embarked; 2ndly, the date, number, and office of delivery of Custom-house discharge; and 3rdly, the vessel to the construction, repair, or use of which the said raw materials or the said manufactured articles shall have been applied.

When a manufactured article which shall have required several metals in its construction, is in question, the declaration shall indicate the weight of each kind of metal.

ART. 7 The Custom-house, in order to control the declarations of the employment, whether of the raw materials of the manufactured articles, shall make use of whatever mode of proceeding it may judge necessary.

ART. 8. There shall not be applied to vessels in substitution—

1st. For iron in bars of irregular shape, any except articles manufactured with iron of a like irregular shape.

2nd. For iron plates and rolled copper of a millimètre and less in thickness, any objects unless manufactured with sheet iron or rolled copper not exceeding that thickness.

In no case shall objects be admitted for the auditing of the importation accounts, made up with materials of a degree of manufacture less advanced than that of the objects tendered for entry.

ART. 9 Products manufactured with raw materials introduced duty free, should represent those same materials, weight for weight, and without any waste.

ART. 10. All infractions of the provisions of the present Decree will be followed by the application of the penalties inflicted under the 3rd paragraph of Article 1 of the Law of the 19th May, 1866.

ART. 11. All objects placed on board vessels, and all material incorporated into the construction of the said vessels, under the provisions of the present Decree, shall in case of landing, or in case of the dismantling, repairing, or demolition of the ships, be subjected to the provisions of general legislation in matters of customs.

ART. 12. Our Ministers of Agriculture, Commerce and Public Works, and of Finance, are charged, in so far as each is concerned, with the execution of the present Decree.

FROM THE
LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 8, 1867.

Foreign Office, January, 8, 1867.

(No. 3, General).

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received from Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires at Vienna, the Order, of which the following is a translation, issued by the Austrian Government :—

(Translation.)

ORDER of the Austrian Foreign Finance and Commercial Departments, dated 20th December, 1866, respecting the Customs' treatment of British, Italian, and French productions, which is to come into operation on the 1st of January, 1867, and to take effect in all the countries of the General Austrian Customs' Jurisdiction.

In pursuance of the Treaty of Commerce between Austria and Great Britain, of 16th December, 1865 ("Reichz-gesetz-Blatt" for 1866, No. 2), of the Treaty of Peace between Austria and Italy of 3rd October, 1866 ("Reichs-gesetz-Blatt," No. 116), and of the Treaty of Commerce between Austria and France of 11th December, 1866 ("Reichs-gesetz-Blatt," No. 164), which assume to British, Italian, and French productions the treatment of the most favoured nation, it is ordered :—

1. That from the 1st of January, 1867, the Special Tariff A, contained in Annex A to the Commercial and Customs Treaty concluded between Austria and the German Zollverein on the 11th of April, 1865 ("Reichs-gesetz-Blatt," No. 22), is to be applied, in so far as a still more favourable treatment is not conceded by the General Austrian Tariff or by special ordinances, not only to the productions of the Zollverein countries, but also to those of Great Britain, Italy, and France, let their importation into Austria take place at whatever boundary it may, either by land or water.

The following items of the aforesaid Special Tariff are excepted from this rule, viz., No. 1, letters a and b (grain and pulse, meal and mill produce); No. 2, letters b and c (garden-produce and fruit, prepared); No. 4, letters a to g (cattle for draught and slaughter); No. 6, letter g (cheese); No. 9, letter a (bread, common); No. 14, letter a (turpentine and oil of turpentine); No. 30, letter b (floor covering and mats of bast, rushes, &c.); and No. 36, letter a (ordinary crockery ware); the stipulations in regard to these items are still restricted to the traffic from the Zollverein over the boundaries between Austria and the Zollverein countries.

2. That to establish the claim to the favourable treatment, it is requisite that the British, Italian, or French origin of the goods be stated in both copies of the Goods Declaration, which is to be produced at the Custom House.

In the event of any doubt arising as to the correctness of this statement, the origin of the goods is to be proved by a certificate, which may be given by the local authority or the proper Custom-house in the country whence the goods come, or by an Austrian Consular functionary there, or by production of the bill of lading.

The aforesaid certificate of origin is only to be demande when the question is as to the Customs treatment of cloth and woven goods, beverages and spirituous liquors, or glass wares.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Minister at Hamburg, inclosing the following translation of a Notification of the Hamburg Government, with respect to the removal of the prohibition of the importation of sheep's wool from Great Britain :—

The prohibition of the importation of cattle from Great Britain, issued on the 13th September, 1865, in consequence of the Cattle Plague in that country, is hereby rescinded, so far as it refers to sheep's wool. For all other purposes, the prohibition remains in force, as well as those of the respective dates of September 25, 1865, and January 31, April 4, and May 14, of this year.

Accordingly :—

I. The importation of oxen, pigs, sheep, and goats, and of all carcasses or portions of these animals, which have died or been killed, particularly fresh hides of the same, as well as hay and straw, stall utensils, and ropes, that have been used, with the exception only of such as have been used for the packing of sheep's wool, is entirely forbidden, from Great Britain, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Russia, until further order.

II. Hay and straw which has been used for packing goods from the before-named countries is not to be used again, especially not as straw or fodder for oxen. It should be burnt as soon as unpacked.

The proper authorities are directed to see that these orders are carried out ; and any contravention of the same will be punished by fine, imprisonment, or confiscation.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 29,
1867.

Downing Street, January 26, 1867.

THE following despatch from the Governor of the Bahamas, No. 193, dated 17th December, 1866, was received by Lord Carnarvon on the 7th instant. It contains an account of the effects of the recent severe hurricane in the outlying islands of the Bahamas group. This despatch is in continuation of Governor Rawson's despatch, No. 161, which appeared recently in the London Gazette.

Governor Rawson to Lord Carnarvon.

Government House, Nassau,

December 17, 1866.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to submit as complete a report of the injury done by the late hurricane on the several islands within this government, and of their present condition and prospects, as the information before me enables me to furnish.

1. INAGUA.

2. The storm was first felt in the most southerly island of the group, Inagua, on the 30th September, about 11 o'clock a.m. It reached its height there about 9 to 12 p.m., twelve hours later than at the Turks' islands. The injury to property ashore was very trifling, but three vessels were totally lost on the coast, and two others were dismasted. The extensive and valuable salt pond on this island remains uninjured, and little or none of the salt in store received any damage. Inagua, therefore, has escaped; and as the price of salt has risen considerably, one-third or more, in consequence of the destruction of salt in the Turks' islands, and in other islands of the Bahamas group, the position of its inhabitants has been ameliorated by the hurricane, and the prospects of the company lately established there to construct a railway from the port to the salt pond, and a wharf at the former place, have been materially improved.

3. Reports have been received of the hurricane having been felt in Saint Domingo, on the coast of Cuba, as far westward as the Bay of Nipe, 100 miles from Cape Maisé; and at the Cay Lobos Lighthouse, on the southern edge of the Great Bahama Bank, in long. $77^{\circ} 35' W.$, 250 miles to the west of Inagua. Its greatest force was felt at this latter place, at about the same time as at Inagua.

2. MAYAGUANA.

4. I have no accounts from Mayaguana; but as it probably lay in or near the centre of the track of the hurricane, it must have suffered severely. There are but two small settlements on the island. It is reported that all the dwellings except two were destroyed.

3. LONG CAY.

5. At Long Cay, or Fortune Island, the area and population of which are very limited—

1 church (Episcopal),
28 dwelling-houses,
41 other buildings,
Were totally destroyed.

1 public gaol,
39 dwelling-houses,
Were unroofed or otherwise injured.

4 vessels,
12 boats,
Were totally lost.

6 vessels,
5 boats,
Were more or less injured.

The canal of the Salt Pond was seriously injured. Masonry which had withstood the sea and floods for more than fifty years has disappeared. Between 50,000 and 60,000 bushels of salt, or about one-third of the year's crop, were destroyed. Houses to leeward of salt heaps had the salt showered upon them like hail, and all the tanks were impregnated with salt or sea-water. Fortunately it has been a favourable season for the salt-rakers, and the quantity which remains may perhaps equal an ordinary crop.

6. This island has the advantage of two or three resident proprietors of means and enterprise, who have helped to relieve the destitute by furnishing them with employment. The population, when ashore, is almost exclusively engaged in the production of salt, and, different from elsewhere, there was a good supply of provisions on the island when the hurricane came on. The supplies sent down from Nassau have been employed, in part, in hiring labourers to repair the canal of the Salt Pond, and thus restore the principal means of employment to the labouring classes. The inhabitants of this island will probably tide over their difficulties without further assistance.

4. CROOKED AND ACKLIN'S ISLANDS.

7. I regret that I have no detailed accounts from these islands. Their magistrate resides at Inagua. Finding that he had no intention of visiting the islands to inquire into the condition and wants of the people, I have directed him to do so. From the collector at Long Cay I learn that three-fourths of the dwellings are destroyed, and that the population is in a deplorable state, without food or shelter. In many parts the sea overflowed the fields, destroying all the vegetation, while the high lands were devastated by the violence of the wind and rain.

8. These two islands, which at the beginning of the present century were among the most favoured and best cultivated, having the advantage of several resident proprietors of means and education, have become the poorest of the Bahama group. That class has long disappeared. I know but of one on the two islands.

The people are scattered in single houses, or small hamlets, around the shores of the islands. They have neither church nor school; are seldom, if ever, visited by their magistrate, and only at distant intervals by the clergyman of Long Cay, in whose parish they are included. They do not work for wages, but depend upon the produce of the ocean and of their fields, and upon the profits of wrecking. They were therefore among those worst prepared to combat their present difficulties, and I believe that the distress has been, and will continue to be for some time, more severe among them than in any other part of the colony, until their fresh crops come in. The supplies sent to Long Cay have been chiefly applied to meeting their wants, and the collector has, upon his own responsibility, which meets with my entire approval, purchased supplies on the spot, and procured others from Inagua, to provide for their immediate necessities.

5. RAGGED ISLAND.

9. From this island it is reported that the public school-house was blown down, but that no private dwellings were seriously injured. Upwards of 50,000 bushels of salt were lost by the rise of the tide. One schooner was driven ashore, and ten boats and launches were more or less injured.

10. An application for relief from a respectable agricultural proprietor, living on Great Nurse Cay, about 17 miles from Ragged Island, affords a tolerably faithful picture of the condition of the residents on most of the small inhabited cays throughout the Bahamas, and of the influence of the desolation of one community upon its neighbours.

"I have lost everything in my fields, together with my creatures (animals). My fields were entirely inundated by the overflow of the tide, which lasted a couple of days. The results are everything is either burnt or drowned. Had not my fields been overflowed they would have been of great assistance to Ragged Island, as they have very often been. And now not having any provisions, and no means of obtaining any, I humbly solicit some aid for myself and my family, consisting of 12 persons."

6. LONG ISLAND.

11. This island has the advantage of a resident magistrate of intelligence and activity. His first accounts were very distressing. He described the whole island as presenting one scene of desolation. Almost every building had been swept to the ground. This island, as my previous reports upon the progress of cotton cultivation in the Bahamas have shown, was making a more rapid progress in the culture of the soil, and the acquisition of wealth, than any other. Ten days after the hurricane the magistrate wrote that the inhabitants were already suffering all but starvation, some existing on crabs and fish alone. At that time some of the population of the town were still glad to find shelter in the prison and police-office—62 in the former and 23 in the latter. The destruction was spread over the whole of the island. On one of the most flourishing estates at the north end, all the buildings of the proprietor were thrown down, except the kitchen, in which 47 persons had to take refuge. This gentleman sent up to Clarence Town, the seat of magistracy, for food. There was none to spare.

12. The report of property destroyed throughout the island, exclusive of buildings injured enumerates

- 2 churches (Episcopal).
- 2 churches (Baptist).
- 1 school-house.
- 5 stores.
- 230 dwelling-houses.
- 5 schooners.
- 2 sloops.
- 16 boats.

13. The more recent accounts from the same magistrate are encouraging. Writing six weeks after the hurricane, he stated that the period of the people's destitution was nearly over. Peas were being obtained from the fields. In a week or two sweet potatoes would be dug. The corn fields looked very promising, and the effect of the hurricane, bringing large quantities of rain, which washed the decayed vegetable matter from the higher and unoccupied parts of the island into the fields of the inhabitants, which lie along the shores, seemed to have caused an unusually rapid growth of vegetation. The cotton fields, which had been destroyed, or severely injured, by the hurricane, had been replanted immediately afterwards, and were looking much better than could be anticipated. The greatest remaining cause of suffering was the want of shelter. The dwellings throughout the island were covered with palmeth thatch. The roofs and the growing trees were alike stripped. A fresh supply of leaves could not be expected for four or five months. They could not be obtained elsewhere. The dwellings of a large portion of the population could not be restored until these were procurable. Happily this is a dry season, but it is also a cold one. The population will, therefore, remain exposed to serious inconvenience and discomfort for a period of nearly six months.

7. RUM CAY.

14. From Rum Cay the collector reported immediately after the hurricane that the country was in a most deplorable state, the crops entirely destroyed, and starvation staring all in the face, that most of the houses were entirely down, and not one uninjured. A later report enumerates :

- 1 church (Episcopal) destroyed.
- 2 chapels (Baptist) destroyed.
- 2 ditto ditto, severely injured.
- 1 police office and prison unroofed.
- 1 school-house destroyed.
- 3 canals of Salt Pond destroyed.
- 2 stores destroyed.
- 2 wharves destroyed.
- 22 dwellings destroyed.
- 18 dwellings severely injured.

15. The population of Rum Cay is chiefly employed in raking salt. Of this 130,000 bushels, the greater part of an unusually large crop, were destroyed. When the hurricane occurred there were not more than 20 bags of corn and 10 barrels of flour on the island. The damage to the Salt Pond was estimated at £1,000. An intelligent and competent resident has offered to repair it for less than half that amount, if supplied with corn for the payment of the labourers. I regret to say that this proposal has met with opposition from persons who, it is alleged, are interested and desirous, as shopkeepers, of deriving profits out of any money that may be disbursed by the Government in the payment of labourer's wages, and I have been obliged to send the magistrate, who resides at Long Island, to inquire into the matter, and to arrange in the best manner for the repair of the pond, upon which the very existence of the majority of the inhabitants depends, and to require from the several leaseholders, or persons working the pond as such, but who have not for years paid any rent, a fair contribution, in labour or otherwise, towards its restoration.

8. WATLING'S ISLAND.

16. The first report from Watling's Island led me to suppose that it had suffered in an equal degree with its neighbours. An old school-house was blown down, several dwelling-houses were injured, and a schooner was lost on the coast. The sea was stated to have "made fearful inroads upon the coasts, and the spray to have blighted all vegetation, as if a fire had passed over the island, burning off the leaves and young shoots." This description which was given by a trustworthy person, must have applied to a limited locality, for the person whom I employed to take the first cargo of provisions round in the interinsular packet schooner, reported on his return, that he found the island green and flourishing, that he rode into the interior, and saw the fields of corn standing unhurt. He therefore did not leave any provisions here. He stated that the people seemed industrious, and that the island must have been on the edge of the Cyclone. It is the most easterly of the group, at some distance from the Bahama Bank.

9. EXCUNA.

17. This island affords an illustration of the difficulty to which I have alluded elsewhere,* of discriminating between want produced by ordinary causes and frequently recurring droughts, and want created by the hurricane. As there was reason to believe that the centre of the Cyclone must have passed over, or close to, Excuna, and as no intelligence from it reached Nassau for several days, while boats with eager applications for assistance were coming in daily from the neighbouring islands, it was feared that the island must have suffered severely, and that all the boats and means of transport had been destroyed. It did not escape lightly, as the following list of casualties will show :—

* In despatch No. 183 of 12th December.

- 2 chapels (Episcopal) damaged.
- 3 chapels (Baptist) damaged.
- 2 lock-up-houses unroofed.
- 1 public school unroofed.
- 2 salt stores destroyed.
- 112 dwelling-houses destroyed.
- 97 out-houses destroyed.
- 8 vessels (Excuna) destroyed.
- 6 vessels (Nassau) destroyed.
- 12 boats (Excuna) destroyed.

18. But the person already mentioned as employed to direct the distribution of provisions reported, that when he arrived at the port, the Coral Justice of the Peace at first informed him that supplies were not wanted ; but the people, to the number of about 200, who had come into the village to procure the supplies known to be on board, threatened to lynch the Justice, and tear down the office, if he did not receive the supplies and distribute them to all alike, and in equal shares, which he was forced to do. I regret to say that the same community received a further supply, sent from Nassau upon the receipt of unfavourable intelligence regarding their condition, and before the return of the mail packet. Subsequently I had an opportunity of expressing to the bearer of a letter of thanks to myself my condemnation of their conduct, and the effect which it would have upon the reception of any future applications for assistance from the same quarter.

19. The truth is that Excuna, which was once the second island of the group, the only one that had an official establishment besides New Providence, has sunk into poverty, and its people into a state of misery and degradation. The land lies high, and the hurricane does not appear to have affected their fields greatly. The salt pond is not reported to have been injured. But the people had little in their fields to be destroyed. A drought had cut off their crops, and the hurricane has not deprived them of their food, but only of their dwellings. Nevertheless I can believe that many of them were in want of food, which they found more difficult to procure in consequence of the injuries inflicted upon their neighbours by the hurricane. These, therefore, and the others who shared in the issues, are so much the better off to the extent of the supplies which they have received, and I learn from the local Justice of the Peace that the crops of corn and cotton look very promising, and that the prospects of the people as regards future supplies of food are decidedly improved.

20. I am very desirous of seeing the three fine islands Excuna, Acklin's, and Crooked, restored to their former state of cultivation and prosperity, and I hope that I may receive your Lordship's permission, solicited in another despatch,* to employ an experienced cotton-grower from the United States to inspect them, and to report upon their capabilities for yielding cotton, which may be the means of attracting capital and labour to them, and perhaps of stimulating the present small proprietors to increased exertion and industry.

* No. 183, of 12th December.

10. ST. SALVADOR.

21. At St. Salvador the injury done was confined to the destruction or injury of the two Episcopal churches and several dwellings. The crops, which had been generally abundant, and had been housed, escaped with little damage. The island has since been shipping corn to Nassau. A large wreck on the coast also added to the means of subsistence. The resident Justices of the Peace did not require any supplies, and the Reverend Mr. Sullivan, the clergyman lately appointed to this parish, even collected a few shillings and a small quantity of corn, and sent them to Nassau, to be forwarded to some of the suffering settlements in one of the adjoining islands.

11. ELENThERA.

I have an excellent report upon the injury done at each of the settlements of Elenthera, from Mr. J. B. Burnside, the energetic and zealous police magistrate of Harbour Island, within whose district this island is situated. Though not the largest in area, it has a much larger population than any other of the out islands, and contains several settlements of considerable size. Each of these has been visited, and arrangements have been made for feeding the infirm and families incapable of labour, and for giving employment to the destitute, who will receive provisions in payment of their labour.

23. On this island—

9 churches and chapels,

2 school houses

Have been destroyed or injured.

240 dwellings destroyed.

56 dwellings badly injured.

831 persons rendered houseless.

8 vessels and boats destroyed.

16 vessels and boats injured.

24. The fields in some places have been blasted by the 'sea spray'. The pine-apple crop it is expected will be reduced to one-half. Roads have been generally destroyed or rendered impassable, and the causeways washed away. At some of the settlements more houses have been destroyed than are left standing. At Rock Sound particularly there is much distress. The dwellings destroyed are chiefly of wattle and daub, and of small value; but their reconstruction by persons possessed of no capital, whose crops have been injured, and whose means of employment have been diminished, is not an easy task; especially when, as the magistrate reports, the people seem to expect that the Government will continue to support them, and that losses by the hurricane will furnish an excuse for protracted destitution, without any effort on their part to supply their own wants, and to restore their dwellings. The magistrate has therefore very properly applied the crucial test of labour, and it is expected that further assistance, except to acknowledged paupers, will be required only in one or two parts of the island.

12. HARBOUR ISLAND.

25. This the largest and most opulent settlement after Nassau, whose population is very well able to bear their own losses, and to help one another. When therefore they sent down a deputation, in the person of the Wesleyan missionary of the station, who waited upon me with two of the members for the island, I urged upon them the duty and necessity of relying upon their own exertions and charitable impulses, and I sanctioned only a small supply of food for paupers and others who could not obtain any. The damage done in this island consists of—

- 1 church (Episcopal) destroyed.
- 1 police office and prison destroyed partially.
- 2 school-houses destroyed.
- 26 dwellings destroyed.
- 21 dwellings injured.
- 4 schooners lost.
- 12 schooners considerably damaged.
- 2 sloops considerably damaged.

The latter are fast undergoing repair.

13. ABACO.

26. This is the only other island to windward of the centre of the Cyclone. The magistrate has not been able to visit the several settlements, and I have no detailed reports regarding them. But, in each, with one exception, the school-house has been blown down, and many dwellings destroyed or injured. The fields have been wracked, and many of the inhabitants reduced to want. Supplies have been sent up from Nassau. In some places provisions have been obtained, and salvage has been earned, from the numerous wrecks on the southern shores. Attempts at plunder have also been made, and I regret to have occasion to report, that action on the part of the magistrate to enforce the wrecking law of last session, and to have search warrants for stolen property executed, has led to tumultuous assemblages, which has rendered it necessary to send up the inspector of police with a reinforcement of constables from Nassau.

14. ANDROS.

27. Andros Island is within the police district of Abaco, and has only one Justice of the Peace, who resides in the middle portion of the island. The settlements are scattered, and I have no detailed reports from the northern portion, where the principal village is situated, but it is stated to have suffered severely; and at Red Bay, on the western shore, the sea washed up to the houses and swept them away, destroying, it is said, several lives. At Fresh Creck, the church, school-house, and several dwellings have been blown down or injured, and considerable damage was done afloat. At Calabash Bay, Standard Creek, Bower Sound, and Man of War Sound, many dwellings were destroyed or injured. The latest accounts, however, of the prospect of early supplies of provisions from the fields are encouraging.

15. BERRY ISLANDS.

28. These islands are also within the same district. The highest local authority is a police constable. The population is scattered over the islands in small numbers. Their dwellings suffered in the same way as on the other small cays; but since the first few days after the hurricane, it has not been necessary to supply them with provisions. It is to be regretted that a chapel, used also as a school-house, has been blown down.

16. BIMINIS.

29. From the Biminis I have no certain information. They also are within the Abaco police district. Some injury was inflicted there, both ashore and afloat. But as there were several wrecks in the neighbourhood, the inhabitants have doubtless been able to procure the means of subsistence, and there have been no applications for assistance. Here also the church has been thrown down.

17. GRAND BAHAMA.

30. Grand Bahama, in the same police district, is one of the poorest islands of the group. Last year I was obliged to relieve a number of the inhabitants, whose crops had been destroyed by the hurricane of September. I made it a condition of relief that the recipients should plant a certain quantity of cotton; but there was no officer of influence on the spot, and I fear that the condition was kept by only a few, and the hurricane of this year will prevent me from enforcing the notes of hand which the people gave. It was some time before any intelligence reached Nassau respecting their condition after the late cyclone, all the boats belonging to the island having been lost or seriously injured. Supplies have since been sent, and more, it is feared, will be required.

18. NEW PROVIDENCE.

31. I have nothing to add to my previous reports regarding this island. The same hopefulness and activity continues to exist. Some assistance has been given by the Central Relief Committee in the shape of loans upon good security for the repair of vessels and boats, and the reconstruction of dwelling-houses. Their number has been fewer than was expected. It has been kept down by the knowledge on the part of private capitalists that if they demanded unreasonable terms assistance might be obtained from the Government. I am sanguine that in a few months all traces of the late visitation, excepting the disappearance and disfigurement of the oldest and finest trees, will have been obliterated, and that the city will have even a brighter and fresher appearance than heretofore.

32. I am unwilling to transmit any report upon the course of the cyclone until I shall have procured definite information whether it commenced at St. Thomas, or, if not, on which side it passed that island. I will only here notice—

1st. That the centre passed over Grand Turk, in lat., $21^{\circ} 26' N.$, and long., $71^{\circ} 7' W.$, at 12:30 p.m. on the 30th September; and over Nassau, in lat. $25^{\circ} 5' N.$, and long., $77^{\circ} 21' W.$, at 7:30 p.m. on the 1st October, having travelled a distance of about 500 miles in a direct line in thirty-one hours.

2nd. That its influence was felt, as I have already stated, at the Cay Lobos Lighthouse, which is nearly 400 miles to the west of Grand Turk; and at Cay Sal Lighthouse, which is nearly 200 miles south-west of Nassau, it was felt on the morning of the 1st October, when it was approaching its height at this place.

3rd. The barometer, which fell at Inagua only from 29.90 inch to 29.40 inch, fell at Nassau from 30.18 inch at 2 p.m. on the 30th September, to 27.70 inch during the lull on the evening of the 1st October.

33. I am almost afraid that this report has extended to an excessive length. But it embraces so many islands, whose circumstances differ greatly, that I could not compress it further without failing in my double object, of which I hope your Lordship will approve, of furnishing full information as to the condition and prospects of the several parts of the colony, and a faithful record, for future reference, of the effects of this destructive hurricane upon the different islands.

I have, &c.,

TO THE "SAUGOR FIELD FORCE" UNDER THE COMMAND OF MAJOR-GENERAL WHIT-LOCK.

VICTORIA, R.

VICTORIA, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, to all to whom these presents shall come ; greeting.

WHEREAS it has been represented unto Us, by the Commissioners of Our Treasury, that in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, a rebellion took place within Central India. That Land Forces, consisting of Our Troops and of Troops of the East India Company, were, for the suppression of the same, organized in three Columns, termed respectively the "Central India Field Force," the "Saugor and Nerbudda Field Force," and the "Rajpootanah Field Force," under the respective commands of Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, now General Lord Strathnairn, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath; Major-General Whitlock, now Lieutenant-General Sir George Cornish Whitlock, Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath; and Major-General Sir Henry Roberts (since deceased), the whole being under the command of General Sir Colin Campbell, Commander-in-Chief. And whereas it has been further represented unto Us, by the said Commissioners of Our Treasury, that the Column or Division under the command of Major-General Sir George Cornish Whitlock, on the nineteenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, captured the town of Bandah, and on the sixth day of June following, the town of Kirwee; that, on the occupation of the aforesaid towns by the said Troops, property was then captured, which has been since duly sold, and the sale proceeds have been realized by the Prize Agents employed for collecting, selling, and realizing the said Booty, or have been otherwise realized, or are about to be realized, amounting, or computed to amount, with interest, after deducting costs, to the sum of fifty-five lacs, fifty thousand rupees, or thereabouts: And whereas the said Commissioners of Our Treasury have further represented unto Us, that a humble Memorial had been presented unto them by Major Chandos F

Clifton, Prize Agent to Major-General Whitlock's Division, praying that the whole of the Booty as aforesaid captured might be granted to Major-General Whitlock, and the force under his command exclusively : And whereas it has been further represented unto us, that claims to participate in the said Booty had been preferred by the late Lord Clyde, as Commander-in-chief, on behalf of himself and his Personal Staff; by Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, on the ground of his force having co-operated in the actions or movement of the Troops which led to the capture; also by Major-General Smith, and by Colonel Middleton, and that other claims might be preferred by or on behalf of the same or other persons to the property, or some part thereof, captured during the aforesaid operations : And whereas difficulties having arisen as to the distribution of the aforesaid Booty, We deemed it advisable that a reference, under the authority of a certain statute made and passed in a Session of Parliament held in the fourth year of Our reign, intituled "An Act to improve the practice and jurisdiction of the High Court of Admiralty of England," should be made to the Judge of Our High Court of Admiralty, and accordingly, We were graciously pleased, on the tenth day of June, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, to issue Our Order in Council in the following terms :—

"Now, therefore, Her Majesty is pleased to "order, and it is hereby ordered, by and with "the advice of Her Privy Council, that the "claims of all parties whomsoever to the pro"perty captured during the aforesaid operations,
 "and to the proceeds thereof, be referred to the "Judge of the High Court of Admiralty of Eng"land, who shall take into his consideration, if “ it shall appear to him to be necessary for the “ purposes of justice, any capture that may have “ been made of any property during the said “ operations by any of the claimants, and shall “ make such Order as to him shall seem right, “ both in regard to the persons who are, and the “ proportions in which such persons are entitled “ to share therein, and to the costs and expenses “ incurred in relation thereto by the respective “ claimants, whether before or subsequent to this “ Order, reserving, however, to Her Majesty the “ right to direct the rates or scale of distribution “ according to which the said property or the “ proceeds thereof shall be paid to the several “ ranks of the force or forces to which such pro“ perty shall be adjudged.”

And whereas, on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, the Right Honourable the Judge of Our High Court of Admiralty of England pronounced that the personal representatives of the late General Lord Clyde, and the Officers of his Staff, personal as well as general, who were in the field at the time, are entitled to share in the Booty captured at Bandah and Kirwee in April and June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, and, subject to this right, he awarded the whole of the said Booty to Lieutenant-General Sir George Cornish Whitlock and the force under his command, called the Saugor and Nerbudda Field Force, including amongst the latter the Officers and Troops under Lieutenant-Colonel Keating, and any other Troops left by General Whitlock on his march, who, at the time of the capture, formed a portion of his Division, and were still under his command, and he disallowed all other claims, and, in pursuance of the power given to him by the said Order in Council, directed that the costs of the various parties be paid out of the fund: And whereas it has been further represented unto Us by the Commissioners of Our Treasury that, regard being had to the unusual character of the whole of the operations in Central India on this occasion, and the responsibility which, under the particular circumstances, must have been imposed upon the Officers in command of the several Columns who were engaged in those operations, although acting under the orders of the Commander-in-chief, the services of those officers will not be sufficiently remunerated by the amount of shares to which they will be entitled under the scale hereinafter mentioned, and have recommended unto Us that some addition should be made to the amount aforesaid, to which We are graciously pleased to condescend.

The Commons being come thither accordingly, Her Majesty was pleased to deliver to the Lord Chancellor the following most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament, which Her Majesty commanded his Lordship to read, and which he accordingly did :

N

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IN again recurring to your advice and assistance, I am happy to inform you that my relations with Foreign Powers are on a friendly and satisfactory footing.

I hope that the termination of the war in which Prussia, Austria, and Italy have been engaged, may lead to the establishment of a durable peace in Europe.

I have suggested to the Government of the United States a mode by which questions pending between the two countries, arising out of the late civil war, may receive an amicable solution, and which, if met, as I trust it will be, in a corresponding spirit, will remove all grounds of possible misunderstanding, and promote relations of cordial friendship.

The war between Spain and the Republics of Chili and Peru still continues, the good offices of my Government, in conjunction with that of the Emperor of the French, having failed to effect a reconciliation. If either by agreement between the parties themselves, or by the mediation of any other friendly Power, peace shall be restored, the object which I have in view will equally be attained.

Discontent prevailing in some provinces of the Turkish Empire has broken out in actual insurrection in Crete. In common with my Allies, the Emperor of the French and the Emperor of Russia, I have abstained from any active interference in these internal disturbances, but our joint efforts have been directed to bringing about improved relations between the Porte and its Christian subjects, not inconsistent with the sovereign rights of the Sultan.

The protracted negotiations which arose out of the acceptance by Prince Charles of Hohenzollern of the Government of the Danubian Principalities have been happily terminated by an arrangement to which the Porte has given its ready adhesion, and which has been sanctioned by the concurrence of all the Powers signataries of the Treaty of 1856.

Resolutions in favour of a more intimate union of the Provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, have been passed by their several Legislatures, and delegates duly authorised, and representing all classes of colonial party and opinion have concurred in the conditions upon which such an union may be best effected. In accordance with their wishes a Bill will be submitted to you which, by the consolidation of colonial interest and resources, will give strength to the several provinces as members of the same empire, and animated by feelings of loyalty to the same Sovereign.

I have heard with deep sorrow that the calamity of famine has pressed heavily on my subjects in some parts of India. Instructions were issued to my Government in that country to make the utmost exertions to mitigate the distress which prevailed during the autumn of last year. The blessing of an abundant harvest has since that time materially improved the condition of the suffering districts.

The persevering efforts and unscrupulous assertions of treasonable conspirators abroad have, during the last autumn, excited the hopes of some disaffected persons in Ireland, and the apprehensions of the loyal population ; but the firm, yet temperate exercise of the powers entrusted to the Executive, and the hostility manifested against the conspiracy by men of all classes and creeds, have greatly tended to restore public confidence, and have rendered hopeless any attempt to disturb the general tranquillity. I trust that you may consequently be enabled to dispense with the continuance of any exceptional legislation for that part of my dominions.

I acknowledge, with deep thankfulness to Almighty God, the great decrease which has taken place in the cholera, and in the pestilence which has attacked our cattle ; but the continued prevalence of the latter in some foreign countries, and its occasional re-appearance in this, will still render necessary some special measures of precaution ; and I trust that the visitation of the former will lead to increased attention to those sanitary measures which experience has shown to be the best preventive.

Estimating as of the highest importance an adequate supply of pure and wholesome water, I have directed the issue of a commission to inquire into the best means of permanently securing such a supply for the Metropolis, and for the principal towns in densely-peopled districts of the Kingdom.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have directed the estimates for the ensuing year to be laid before you. They have been prepared with a due regard to economy, and to the requirements of the public service.

You will, I am assured, give your ready assent to a moderate expenditure calculated to improve the condition of my soldiers, and to lay the foundation of an efficient army of reserve.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your attention will again be called to the State of the representation of the people in Parliament, and I trust that your deliberations, conducted in a spirit of moderation and mutual forbearance, may lead to the adoption of measures which, without unduly disturbing the balance of political power, shall freely extend the elective franchise.

The frequent occurrence of disagreements between employers of labour and their workmen, causing much private suffering and public loss, and occasionally leading, as is alleged, to acts of outrage and violence, has induced me to issue a commission to inquire into, and report upon, the organisation of trades' unions, and other associations, whether of workmen or employers, with power to suggest any improvement of the law for their mutual benefit. Application will be made to you for Parliamentary powers, which will be necessary to make this inquiry effective.

I have directed Bills to be laid before you for the extension of the beneficial provisions of the Factory Acts to other trades specially reported on by the Royal Commission on the employment of children ; and for the better regulation, according to the principle of those Acts, of workshops where women and children are largely employed.

The condition of the mercantile marine has attracted my serious attention. Complaints are made that the supply of seamen is deficient ; and the provisions for their health and discipline on board ship are imperfect. Measures will be submitted to you with a view to increase the efficiency of this important service.

I have observed with satisfaction the relaxations recently introduced into the Navigation Laws of France. I have expressed to the Emperor of the French my readiness to submit to Parliament a proposal for the extinction, on equitable terms, of the exemptions from local charges on shipping, which are still enjoyed by a limited number of individuals in British ports ; and His Imperial Majesty has, in anticipation of this step, already admitted British ships to the advantage of the new law. A Bill upon this subject will forthwith be laid before you.

A Bill will also be submitted to you for making better provision for the arrangement of the affairs of Railway Companies which are unable to meet their engagements.

Measures will be submitted to you for improving the management of Sick and other Poor in the metropolis, and for a redistribution of some of the charges for relief therein.

Your attention will also be called to the amendment of the Law of Bankruptcy ; to the consolidation of the Courts of Probate and Divorce and Admiralty ; and to the means of disposing, with greater dispatch and frequency, of the increasing business in the Superior Courts of Common Law, and at the Assizes.

The relations between landlord and tenant in Ireland have engaged my anxious attention, and a Bill will be laid before you which, without interfering with the rights of property, will offer direct encouragement to occupiers of land to improve their holdings, and provide a simple mode of obtaining compensation for permanent improvements.

I commend to your careful consideration these and other measures which will be brought before you ; and I pray that your labours may, under the blessing of Providence, conduce to the prosperity of the country and the happiness of my people.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
February 11, 1867.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, an Extract from the "Moniteur," relative to the importation into France of Peruvian guano and borax, of which the following is a translation:—

ARTICLE I.

AN Arrangement relative to the importation of Peruvian guano into France and the French colonies having been signed, December 2, 1866, between France and Peru, the aforesaid Arrangement, the substance of which follows, has been approved and will receive its full and entire execution:—

ARRANGEMENT.

The Government of His Majesty the Emperor of the French and the Government of the Republic of Peru, wishing to facilitate, by new arrangements reciprocally advantageous to the two countries, the development of the consumption of Peruvian guano in France and in the French colonies, have agreed to substitute the following stipulations for the Arrangement concluded between France and Peru, January 15, 1864 :

Dating from the day when this Arrangement shall have been approved by the Government of His Majesty the Emperor, guano imported from Peru under all flags will be admitted without payment of the custom-house duties into the ports of France and the French colonies.

Commencing from the same date, the price of Peruvian guano sold in France and the French colonies, whatever the amount sold, will be reduced to three hundred francs per ton of one thousand kilogrammes.

Whenever the sale price of this guano in the European markets shall be increased or diminished the price of three hundred francs fixed for France shall be raised and lowered in the same proportion. The same will hold good in the French colonies in case of an increase or diminution in the actual prices of sale in the markets of the neighbouring English possessions.

Commencing from the same date, borax imported direct from Peru into France will be admitted, under whatever flag it may be imported, free of custom-house duties if it is raw, and at a duty of five per cent. of its value if it is half-refined.

The present Arrangement will have a fixed duration of five years, dating from this day (December 2, 1866), and after that date it will remain binding from year to year until one of the two Governments may have announced, one year beforehand, its intention of putting an end to its powers.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
February 14, 1867.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople, containing a copy of a note from Aali Pasha respecting the importation of salt from Sicily to Antivari and Scutari :—

Sublime Porte, January 3, 1867.

The Imperial Government having authorised the disembarkation of salt in the ports of Antivari and Scutari, in Albania, in transit for Montenegro with a view to facilitate the victualling of that Principality, instructions have been given to the Turkish Consular Agents in Sicily to grant their signature to vessels laden with salt and destined from one or other of these two ports.

This transport of salt having assumed large proportions and giving opportunity for certain abuses, measures have been taken to prevent smuggling, and to issue authority to control the transit operations at Antivari and at Scutari destined for Montenegro. These measures ought to consist in the fulfilment of the following formalities :—

1. Captains must hand over to the Consular Agents of the ports of Sicily, from which salt is embarked destined for Antivari and Scutari in Albania, a written engagement to present, on their return, to these same Consular Agents a certificate of direction from the Custom-house officers at Antivari or at Scutari, stating that the quantity of salt freighted upon their vessels and stated in their manifest had been really and truly disembarked in one of those two ports and examined by the Custom-house.

2. Captains on their return to the Sicilian Ports are obliged to present this certificate to the Consular Agents, who, on the receipt of this probatory document, will restore them their former engagement.

By means of these measures the Custom-house Officers of Antivari and Scutari will be able to state the amount of salt disembarked in transit, and to ascertain whether this transit right serves as a pretext for the clandestine introduction of salt into the other provinces of the Empire.

Captains, however, who shall not be able to clear themselves, by means of this Custom-house certificate, of the disembarkation of their cargoes of salt in the ports of Antivari and Scutari, will be liable to the penalties inflicted upon offences of smuggling.

The said Exchequer Bills, dated the 11th March, 1862, will be paid off, either in new Bills or in money, on the 11th March, 1867, when the interest will cease. Such Bills will be received at the Bank of England daily, from ten till two o'clock, until the 4th day of March, 1867, inclusive.

Printed forms, containing instructions for the preparation of the lists and the arrangement of the Bills, may be obtained on application at the Chief Cashier's Office, Bank of England.

The holders must insert their names and addresses in each list ; but where the names of holders are inserted in the body of the Bills, the indorsements of such holders must be obtained previously to their Lists and Bills being left for examination.

New Bills prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Act 24 Vic., cap. 5, dated the 11th day of March, 1867, may be obtained in payment of the principal of the whole or part of the Exchequer Bills, advertised for payment, on the claimants specifying in their lists the amount of new Bills required by them.

The interest of the said new Bills will be payable by coupons, half-yearly, on the 11th September and 11th March, at the Bank of England. The rate of interest will be advertized from time to time in the London Gazette. Such rate for the half-year to the 11th day of September, 1867, will be three per cent. per annum.

The Bills will be current from year to year for a period of five years, commencing on the 11th March, 1867, at the option of the holders ; and they will be payable for duties, aids and taxes, at any time during the last six months of every year, viz., between the 11th September in each year, and the 11th March following.

The new Bills, in payment of the Bills left on or before the said 4th day of March for exchange, will be issued on the 11th day of March, 1867, when the claimants must attend at the Bank of England to sign receipts for the payment of principal.

Notice will be given yearly of the days on which holders of the new Exchequer Bills, who may be desirous of being paid the principal moneys, must send their Bills to the Bank of England for examination and payment.

FROM THE

*LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 1,

AT the Court at Windsor, the 26th day of February, 1867.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Lord President.

Lord Chamberlain.

Earl of Devon.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make further and better provisions for appeals from Her Majesty's Supreme Court of the settlement of Sierra Leone to Her Majesty in Council. It is therefore ordered by the Queen's Most Excellent

Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, as follows :

It shall and may be lawful for any person or persons being a party or parties to any civil suit or action depending in the said Supreme Court of the settlement of Sierra Leone to appeal to Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, in her or their Privy Council, against any final judgment, decree or sentence of the said court, or against any rule or order made in any such civil suit or action having the effect of a final or definitive sentence, and which appeals shall be made, subject to the rules, regulations, and limitations following, that is to say :

First. Such judgment, decree, order, or sentence shall be given or pronounced for or in respect of a sum or matter at issue above the amount of three hundred pounds sterling, or shall involve directly or indirectly the title to property or to some civil right amounting to or of the value of three hundred pounds sterling.

Secondly. The person or persons feeling aggrieved by such judgment, decree, order or sentence, shall, within fourteen days next after the same shall have been pronounced, made, or given, apply to the said Supreme Court for leave to appeal, therefrom to Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, in her or their Privy Council.

Thirdly. If such leave to appeal shall be prayed by the party or parties who is or are adjudged to pay any sum of money or to perform any duty, the court shall direct that the judgment, decree, or sentence appealed from shall be carried into execution, if the party or parties respondent shall give security for the immediate performance of any judgment or sentence which may be pronounced or made by Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, in her or their Privy Council, upon any appeal, and until such security be given, the execution of the judgment, decree, order, or sentence appealed from shall be stayed.

Fourthly. Provided nevertheless, that if the party or parties appellant shall establish to the satisfaction of the said supreme court that real and substantial justice requires that pending such appeal execution should be stayed, it shall be lawful for such Supreme Court to order the execution of such judgment, decree, order, or sentence to be suspended pending such appeal, if the party or parties appellant shall give security for the immediate performance of any judgment or sentence which may be pronounced or made by Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, in her or their Privy Council, upon any such appeal.

Fifthly. In all cases security shall also be given by the party or parties appellant for the prosecution of the appeal, and for the payment of all such costs as may be awarded by Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, to the party or parties respondent.

Sixthly. The said Supreme Court shall, subject to the conditions hereinafter mentioned determine the nature, amount and sufficiency of the several securities so to be taken as aforesaid.

Seventhly. Provided. nevertheless, that in any case where the subject of litigation shall consist of immovable property, and the judgment, decree, order, or sentence appealed from shall not change, affect, or relate to the actual occupation thereof, no security shall be demanded either from the party or parties respondent or from the party or parties appellant for the performance of the judgment or sentence to be pronounced or made upon such appeal; but if such judgment, decree, order, or sentence shall change, affect, or relate to the occupation of any such property, then such security shall not be of greater amount than may be necessary to secure the restitution free from all damage or loss of such property, or of the intermediate profit which, pending any such appeal, may probably accrue from the intermediate occupation thereof.

Eighthly. In any case where the subject of litigation shall consist of money or other chattels, or of any personal debt or demand, the security to be demanded either from the party or parties respondent or from the party or parties appellant for the performance of the judgment or sentence to be pronounced or made upon such appeal, shall be either a bond to be entered into in the amount or value of such subject of litigation by one or more sufficient surety or sureties, or such security shall be given by way of mortgage or voluntary condemnation of or upon some immovable property situate and being within such settlement, and being of the full value of such subject of litigation over and above the amount of all mortgages and charges of whatever nature upon or affecting the same.

Ninthly. 4. That it shall be lawful for any person who shall think himself aggrieved by any final judgment, sentence, decree, or order of the said West Africa Court of Appeal, to appeal to Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, in her or their Privy Council, against any such final judgment, sentence, decree, or order of the said court, and such appeals shall be made subject to the rules, regulations, limitations, and conditions which for the time being shall be in force respecting appeals to Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, in council, from any judgment, sentence, decree, or order of the said Supreme Court of the settlement of Sierra Leone, and subject to such other regulations and conditions as Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, shall be pleased to direct.

Art. 5. Steamers, to whatever nations they may belong, shall pay half-tonnage duties, according to the conditions set down in the present tariffs. Nevertheless, steamers that specially and periodically carry passengers, possessing a grant for so doing from the Mexican Government, and which besides carry commercial effects, shall pay solely for the number of tons occupied by the goods they may discharge, independently of the duty imposed by the 58th Article, Title XIII, of the Law of 1st November, 1865.

Art. 6. Sailing-vessels, national or foreign, which may arrive with cargoes of coal for the depôts which may be established in the ports of the Empire, by permission of the Government, are exempt from tonnage dues.

Art. 7. Foreign vessels arriving for the purpose of taking in cargoes of logwood, or other productions of the country from one or more ports of the Empire, as prescribed in the Tariff of the Maritime Custom-houses, shall be exempted from the payment of tonnage dues.

Art. 8. All foreign vessels that arrive for the purpose of bringing or taking away passengers, correspondence, metals, specie, or logwood, are also exempted from the payment of tonnage dues.

Art. 9. Lighthouse dues shall not be collected except at those ports where lighthouses exist.

Art. 10. The duty shall be collected according to the following tariff:—

Sailing-vessels, national or foreign, of long voyages, and coming from countries which have concluded treaties with Mexico, bringing passengers, merchandize, and correspondence to any of the ports of the Empire, shall pay five cents per ton, whatever be the burthen of the vessel.

Foreign sailing-vessels belonging to nations that have not concluded treaties with Mexico, and carrying merchandize and correspondence to any of the ports of the Empire, shall pay ten cents per ton, whatever be the burthen of the vessel.

Art. 11. Steamers, to whatever nation they may belong, shall pay a higher lighthouse duty than sailing vessels. This duty shall be established in the following manner:—

National or foreign steamers arriving from countries that have concluded treaties with Mexico shall pay ten cents per ton, whatever be the burthen of the vessel.

Foreign steamers belonging to countries that have not concluded treaties with Mexico shall pay twenty cents per ton, whatever be the burthen of the vessel.

Art. 12. These tariffs comprise the entrance and departure, either at coasting-trade ports or ports open to foreign trade.

Art. 13. No vessel, of whatever class soever, except those of war, national or foreign, shall be exempted from lighthouse dues without special permission from the Sovereign.

The Departments for Foreign Affairs and Marine, and that of Finance, are charged, in as far as they are respectively concerned, with the execution of this Decree.

(General, No. 6.)

THE Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received from Her Majesty's Consul at Wiborg, a Despatch, of which the following is a copy :—

British Consulate,

Wiborg, March 20, 1867.

I DO myself the honour to inform your Lordship that an Imperial Decree, dated Helsingfors, the 27th of February last, and published in the Finland Official Gazette, ordains as follows ; viz. :

“ That all merchandize which according to the regulations in vigour is liable to duty, when exported from Finland, may during a period of five years, or from 1867 to 1871, both inclusive, be exported from this Grand Duchy free of duty, with the exception, however, of rags and bones.

“ That all goods, the exportation of which from this country is at present prohibited, may during the above-mentioned five years also be exported free of duty, excepting, however, Russian small coin of the 72 standard for which the non-exportation continues to remain in force.”

I may mention that the ordinary export duty on sawn wood goods, the staple article in this country, and more particularly in this Consular District, was hitherto 1 penni per cubic foot, or 1 mark 65 penni = 1s. 4d. sterling for the St. Petersburg standard.

A sawing tax of 2 penni per cubic foot or 3 marks 30 penni = 2s. 8d. sterling, for the St. Petersburg standard, and another tax of 12 penni = 1d., for every dozen of deals and boards, called a tax in favour of the Imperial Alexander University Fund at Helsingfors, both of which have hitherto been levied along with the ordinary export duty now repealed remain still in force.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
March 28, 1867.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a Despatch from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Berlin, forwarding a copy of a Prussian Law, dated the 2nd March, 1867, repealing the dues prescribed by the Customs tariff on Permits and Leads.

(C. 500.)

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
March 28, 1867.*

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, from Her Majesty's Consul at Dunkirk, a copy of a notice relative to the Customs dues at that port, of which the following is a translation :—

Dunkirk, 12th March, 1867.

To the President of the Chamber of Commerce of Dunkirk.

EXTRACT of a letter written 7th March, 1867, by the State Councillor, Director-General of Customs and Excise, to the Director at Dunkirk.

SIR,

The obligation of direct transit, stipulated in our various treaties of commerce, has lost much of its importance since the advantages of the Conventional Tariff have been extended to the majority of the European Powers, and we are able at this moment to depart, without real inconvenience, from the rigour of the laws established in this respect. Commencing from the time of the receipt of this letter the obligation of direct transit shall be applied, in the case of merchandize mentioned in the Conventional Tariff, only in the case of those articles designated by name in the statement below.

This special category of goods will also be freed from the above restriction, whenever they have been brought by land, or by means of internal navigation from the place of their origin to the place of their arrival in France, and have not been carried by sea during any part of their transit. With the preceding reservation only ; merchandize, named in the Conventional Tariff, proceeding from one of the contracting States, shall be admitted to the advantages of the Tariff from whencesoever it is brought.

Thus, English iron coming from any country, whether a treating power or not, shall be received, subject to the Conventional duty, as though it had come direct from Great Britain.

With reference to the additional Flag-tax, all products comprised in our treaties shall, on their importation from one of the contracting countries, be considered as originating from that country. Therefore, to quote an instance, Swedish iron imported from Belgium by a French or Belgian vessel, shall be exempt from the additional tax. These vessels would be subject to such taxes, on the other hand, if they were to arrive under any other flag.

One distinction remains to be made in the case of arrivals from Spain. Productions of a similar nature to those enumerated in Table B annexed to the decree of 26th July, 1865, will, on their importation, by any but French ships, pay the special additional taxes, determined by the decree of the 13th August following.

It is understood that these new measures, which are acts of indulgence on the part of the French Government, will not have a retroactive effect and may not be eventually made the grounds of demands for the restitution of duties.

I beg you to issue immediate orders in accordance with these directions, conformably to a decision of the 27th February last, of the Minister of State and Finance. You will also make it known in the commercial world.

(Signed) CH. LETOURMEUR.

(1) This statement comprises, besides sugars and molasses not intended for distillation, the productions of Europe, with respect to which the general tariff makes a distinction between those brought direct from the place of origin and those which arrive from warehouses.

Statement of the articles which remain subject to the obligation of direct transit, with the exception of importations from the country of origin into France by land or by means of internal navigation without any sea transit.

(Quarantine, No. 21.)

THE Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received from Her Majesty's Consul at Helsingfors a Despatch, of which the following is a copy:—

British Consulate, Helsingfors,
April 13, 1867.

I HAVE the honour to inform your Lordship that last year several British shipmasters were fined at this port by the authorities, in consequence of their not having conformed with the quarantine regulations at present in force in the Grand Duchy of Finland, and in most cases they pleaded (although without effect) ignorance of the existing laws. I beg, therefore, to transmit to your Lordship a summary of the Quarantine Regulations issued by His Majesty the Emperor at Helsingfors, on the 2nd May, 1865, which are still rigidly enforced.

In an Imperial Decree issued at Helsingfors, on the 2nd May, 1865, and still in force, it is ordained that,

All vessels bound for Finnish ports from places beyond the Baltic Sea must be provided with Bills of Health duly certified by a Russian Consular Agent, and these documents must be examined and endorsed at every intermediate port at which the vessel touches during the voyage.

Masters of vessels proceeding to the Gulfs of Finland and Bothnia should be provided with a copy of the quarantine regulations valid in Sweden, the 4th paragraph of which contains distinct instructions as to the proceedings which ought to be observed.

All vessels coming from ports which have been declared or suspected by the Swedish Government to be infected with an epidemic disease must undergo quarantine at Kånsö, after which they may proceed to Finnish ports, and on their arrival the master must produce a clean Bill of Health from the place of quarantine. Should the port from which the vessel comes be infected with a disease of a non-epidemic character she will be allowed to proceed direct to Finnish ports on the master producing the required Bill of Health.

No vessel shall have more than one Bill of Health, and the Master must produce it when required to do so by the Commanders of the guard ships and Custom-house officials.

For sake of distinction it is advisable that all vessels proceeding from the North Sea to Finnish ports should fly a green flag at the masthead.

Masters who arrive without a Bill of Health, drawn up in the regular form are liable to a fine of twenty-five roubles, and the same fine will be inflicted if the master should neglect to have his Bill of Health examined and countersigned at all the intermediate ports which the vessel visits.

British Consulate, Helsingfors,

(General, No. 7.)

THE Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received from Her Majesty's Minister Resident at Hamburgh a Notification, of which the following is a translation, respecting the Pilotage at Cuxhaven :—

(Translation.)

Notification respecting the Pilotage at Cuxhaven.

AFTER the conclusion of the trial voyage of the fourth new pilot schooner, it will at once take up its station, and commence cruising from the 1st of May next, from which time the following changes in the pilotage system will take effect :—

1. At least three out of the four pilot schooners shall regularly keep the sea between Borkum and Heligoland, or on the other side of Borkum, in order to supply all inward-bound vessels with pilots. The pilot schooner lying in the harbour shall put to sea as soon as there is a sufficient number of pilots at disposal.

2. The pilotage dues for the cruizers will be reduced to :—

11 marks currency per Hamburg foot draught of water for the winter season, from October 1st to March 31st, and 7 marks currency per Hamburg foot draught of water for the summer season, from April 1st to September 30th.

Vessels drawing less than ten feet will be charged for ten feet.

3. A discharge of the pilots at Cuxhaven will not hereafter take place, but the pilots are bound to bring vessels up to the Bösch Station, or Gluckstadt, for the fixed pilotage money.

4. In case, however, that the shipmaster discharges the pilot at Cuxhaven, then he shall pay only 9 or 6 marks per foot respectively as pilotage money, in case he remains there, or his ship is not liable to take a pilot.

5. The pilots are bound to take ships to Bremerhaven, if necessary, for the same rates as to Cuxhaven.

6. If tug boats take a pilot, the charge to them will be 30 marks for twenty-four hours, to and fro, in winter, and 20 marks in summer. The pilot is bound to be on duty for the whole number of hours mentioned. For every twelve hours and less beyond that time, the half of the above dues are to be paid in addition.

Notwithstanding the foregoing alterations, the old regulations by which those ships which have taken no cruiser pilot have to take one at Cuxhaven remain unchanged.

“Of which 1970 miles are navigated by Brazilian steamers from Pará to Tabatinga, and 1165 miles from the latter to Yurimagnas.

“In 1865 the Brazilian steamers carried up and down 13,625 passengers and received for

Passage money	£14,972
Freight	27,602

Total	..	£42,574
-------	----	---------

“The approximate value of their cargoes in the same year was

Upwards	£391,494
Downwards	415,077

“According to official returns during the year from July 1, 1864, to June 30, 1865, produce arrived from the province of the Upper Amazon at the port of Pará to the value of £85,778, and goods were despatched from that port to the same province to the value of £40,841, which were forwarded to Peru. The import from Great Britain to Pará has been more than double that of any other nation, whilst the export to Great Britain, though proportionally smaller, is still larger than to any other nation.

“The general entrance to the Amazon and its confluent is now by the Pará channel, and at Pará is the custom house, at which vessels from beyond seas enter when bound to that part of Brazil. When, however, the navigation of the Amazon shall be opened, in September next, to the flags of all nations, the north-western entrance would be much more direct, accessible, easy, and short, than the other passage. It is therefore much to be desired that a Port of entry should be established somewhere near that mouth of the Amazon, and I have reason to believe that the Brazilian Government meditate doing so at Macapá. If this intention be carried out, hardly any vessels will take the south-eastern entrance, but those bound direct to Pará and to Cametá, on the river Tocantins, which, by the Decree of December last, will be open to foreign commerce in September next. The depth of water at the north-western entrance of the Amazon is generally about forty-five feet.

“The principal affluents of the Amazon are the following :—

“The Trombetas, which, with the Rio Branco, unites the Province of Pará with the Guianas.

“The Rio Negro, which flows from Venezuela, and the Iça from New Granada.

“The Morona, Pastaza, and Napo, which afford a communication between the northern parts of Peru and New Granada and the Equator.

“And on the right bank the following rivers :—

“The Tocantins, Xingu, and Tapajoz, in Brazilian territory.

“The Madeira, in Brazilian and Bolivian territory.

“The Purus, Yurna, and Yavary, in Bolivian and Peruvian territory.

“And the Ucayali and Huallaga, in Peruvian territory.

“With regard to the navigation of the Trombetas, I have been unable to obtain any information.

“At about eight miles from the mouth of the Rio Negro is situated the town of Manaos, the capital of the province of Upper Amazon; thence to Santa Isabel, about 377 miles up the Rio Negro, the navigation is easy for steamers of light draught, and it is only in the dry season that there are one or two passes where the river is not more than three feet deep. There was at one time a line of steamers belonging to the Brazilian Company from Manaos to Santa Isabel, which was given up as not being sufficiently remunerative. Above Santa Isabel there are rapids, though of neither a dangerous nor difficult nature; and it is said that a very little engineering would render the river in that part also navigable for light-draught steamers. As it is, large barges, loaded with produce, come down from San Carlos, in Venezuela, to Santa Isabel.

“At about 170 miles above Manaos, the Rio Branco flows into the Rio Negro. It is said that the former offers, during the greater part of the year, an easy navigation for light-draught steamers for 200 miles, as far as the Fort of St. Joaquim, not far from the frontier of British Guiana.

“It is asserted that a much more rapid and easy communication may be established between Europe and Guiana and the interior of Venezuela by means of the Amazon, Rio Negro, and Rio Branco than by the Orinoco, and that steamers could go from Pará to the frontier of Venezuela on the Rio Negro in twenty-seven days, and come down again in fifteen days.

“Of the Iça, Morona, and Pastaza little is known.

“The Napo is said to be an important river, and is said to possess an easy navigation by steam for 340 miles to a place called Puerto del Napo, whence Quito may be reached in six or seven days. The River Napo runs through the Province of Canelos, which is in dispute between Peru and the Equator, and where lands were ceded by the latter in payment of a debt to an English company.

“The River Tocantins is entirely in Brazilian territory, but was opened by the Decree of last December to Cameta, about thirty-five miles distant from the confluence of that river with the Amazon. The remainder of the navigation is little known.

“The Xingu is also in Brazilian territory, and is little known.

“The Tapajoz is likewise in Brazilian territory along its whole course, and affords a communication with the Brazilian Province of Matto Grosso. By the Decree of last December, the town of Santarem, on the left bank of the Tapajoz, at about twenty miles from its junction with the Amazon, was open to foreign commerce. The inhabitants of Matto Grosso, and of the banks of the Tapajoz, have for many years traded with Santarem by means of boats, the communication being, however, slow and difficult. But if it were improved the communication between Matto Grosso and Europe, as well as with the rest of Brazil, would be much quicker and more direct than by the River Plate, Parana, and Paragua, and would not have the disadvantage of passing through foreign territory.

“The Tapajoz is navigable for steamers for above 170 miles above Santarem, when impassable rapids are met with; above these, boats can go to within a short distance of Diamantino, which is about 100 miles north of Cuyaba, the capital of Matto Grosso.

“The Madeira is a most important tributary of the Amazon; by the Decree of the 7th of December last this river is to be opened in September next to the flags of all nations as far as Borba, situated on the right bank of the Madeira, at about 120 miles from its mouth. For about 570 miles from its mouth the navigation of this river is clear and easy for vessels, drawing 6 feet of water; generally speaking the river is very deep, and the current is not more than a mile and a half an hour. This brings one to St. Antonio, where commences a series of impassable rapids and waterfalls for about 270 miles; to avoid these it would be necessary to construct a road for 170 miles from St. Antonio to Guajará. A little above this point the Madeira separates into two, to the south-eastward and south-westward, the former taking the name of Guaporé and the latter of Mamoré; of these the latter is by far the most important. From Guajará up the Mamoré the navigation is perfectly easy and clear; the current is from a mile to a mile and a half an hour; the water is in most places very deep, but always enough for vessels of twelve feet draught. Vinchuta, on the Mamoré, in Bolivia, is at about 500 miles from Guajará. It is at about 140 miles from Cochabamba and from Santa Cruz de la Sierra, and at 120 miles from Trinidad, the capital of the Bolivian province of Mojos. From Cochabamba to Chupuisaca, the capital of Bolivia, the distance may be 140 miles.

“The principal desideratum then on this route would be the road of 170 miles from St. Antonio to Guajará, a work which ought to be undertaken jointly by Brazil and Bolivia.

“Supposing this road to exist, merchandize could easily be carried from the mouth of the Amazon, to Cochabamba, in the heart of Bolivia, in thirty-one days; whereas, if it went from the latitude of Pará round Cape Horn, landed at Arica, the nearest port to Cochabamba on the West Coast, and proceeded thither across the Andes, it would take at least 100 days to get there.

“This road would be further useful to Brazil, because steamers of very little draught could ascend the Guaporé as far as Villa Bella de Matto Grosso, and thus afford a completely internal water communication with the extreme west of the province of Matto Grosso.

“Little is known of the Purus, which is supposed to rise in about 12° south latitude flowing nearly parallel to the Madeira, forming a small part of the boundary between Bolivia and Peru, and proceeding through Brazilian territory till it empties itself into the Amazon. It is ascertained however, that for 850 miles from its mouth, the Purus has from eight to thirteen feet water, and for 500 miles more, from six to eight feet.

"No exact information can be obtained with regard to the Yarná and Yavary: but the former is said to be navigable for 1000 miles from its junction with the Amazon.

"The Ucayali and Huellaga are exclusively Peruvian rivers. They are no doubt of great importance in connexion with the navigation of the Amazon, because they flow through very populous districts to the east of the Andes, which could be much more easily supplied with European merchandize by this route than by that of the Pacific, followed up by the difficult and expensive journey across the Andes. But I am unable to furnish any precise details as to the facilities which may be offered by these two rivers for navigation by steam. According to the best authorities, it would seem that the Ucayali is navigable for steamers for about 880 miles from its mouth. Above that there are rapids which would interfere with the ascent of the river, but would not at all prevent vessels from coming down it from a much greater distance. The Huallaga, the course of which is nearer to the Andes than that of the Ucayali, is navigable for large vessels only as far as Laguna, about seventeen miles from its mouth, in all seasons, and during the rainy season as far as Yurimagnas, 125 miles higher.

"To the mouths of these two rivers the Amazon always has sufficient water for good-sized vessels, and there can be no doubt that once these are properly explored and opened to navigation, all the inhabitants of Peru to the east of the Andes would be supplied by this route. I understand that the Peruvian Government are meditating the establishment of a line of steamers on the Ucayali.

“The amount of population which would be chiefly interested in the navigation of the Amazon and its tributaries is, more or less, as follows:—

Brazilian Province of Pará	215,923
Do. do. Upper Amazon	46,443
Peru, east of the Andes	2,090,000
Bolivian Provinces of Beni, Santa Cruz, and Cochabamba	622,000
Venezuelan Provinces of Barinas, Apure, and Guayana, and the so-called District of the Amazon ..	16,000
Total	<hr/> 2,990,366 <hr/>

“This population will probably some years hence have all its communications with Europe by way of the Amazon. If we take as an instance the Peruvian town of Magro, situated in 10° south latitude to the east of the Andes on the river Pachitea, which falls into the Ucayali, and at about seven days journey from Lima, we find that in going down the Rivers Pachitea and Ucayali the distance from Magro to Iquitos on the Amazon can be done in two days, from Iquitos to Pará in five days, and from Pará to England in fourteen days, making in all twenty-one days, and putting the time between Lima and England at twenty-seven days by this route.

“I am unable to inform your Lordship precisely what measures have been taken for the security of vessels navigating the Amazon. There are authorities at many points on the river, who are supported by a small force; indeed the Brazilian and Peruvian Governments feel themselves obliged to maintain a certain force on that river for their protection against their neighbours; but it would evidently be impossible fully to guard the whole course of the enormous distances which sometimes intervene between the different towns on the banks. Vessels navigating the river must to a certain extent depend on their own resources for safety. At the same time I understand that the inhabitants of the banks of the Amazon are generally well disposed towards foreigners and most desirous of trading with them."

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the 6th and 7th years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to remove doubts as to the exercise of power and jurisdiction by Her Majesty within divers countries and places out of Her Majesty's dominions and to render the same more effectual," it is amongst other things, enacted that it is and shall be lawful for Her Majesty to hold, exercise, and enjoy any power or jurisdiction which Her Majesty now hath, or may at any time hereafter have, within any country or place out of Her Majesty's dominions, in the same and as ample a manner as if Her Majesty had acquired such power or jurisdiction by the cession or conquest of territory :

And whereas Her Majesty hath power and jurisdiction in the dominions of Her Majesty the Queen of Madagascar :

And whereas it is expedient to make provision for the due and effectual exercise of such power and jurisdiction :

1. Now, therefore, in pursuance and by virtue of the said recited Act of Parliament, Her Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that Her Majesty's Consuls appointed to reside in the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar shall have full power and authority to carry into effect, and to enforce by the means and in the manner hereinafter mentioned and provided, the observance of the stipulations of the Treaty of June 27, 1865, or of any regulations appended to that Treaty, or any which may hereafter be made between Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, and the Queen of Madagascar, her heirs and successors; and to make and to enforce, by fine or imprisonment, or both, Rules and Regulations for the observance of the stipulations of any such Treaty, and for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects being within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, her heirs and successors.

2. And it is further ordered, that a copy of all such Rules and Regulations made by the said Consul, shall forthwith be affixed, and kept affixed and exhibited in some conspicuous place in the public office of the said Consul, and that printed copies of the said Rules and Regulations shall, as soon as possible, be provided by the said Consul, and sold at a price not exceeding one dollar for each copy ; and for the purpose of convicting any person offending against the said Rules and Regulations, and for all other purposes of law whatsoever, a printed copy of the said Rules and Regulations certified under the hand of the said Consul to be a true copy thereof, shall be taken as conclusive evidence of such Rules and Regulations and all things therein respectively contained and no penalty shall be incurred or shall be enforced for the breach of any such Rules and Regulations to be hereafter made, until the same shall have been so affixed and exhibited for one calendar month in the public office of the Consul ; Provided always, that any such Rule or Regulation made by Her Majesty's Consul, and to be enforced by a penalty, shall, before the first day on which the same shall be so affixed or exhibited be transmitted to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs for allowance or disallowance ; and if any such Rule or Regulation shall be disallowed by Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, the same shall cease to have effect from the receipt by the Consul, of such disallowance ; nevertheless, the Consul shall not be liable to be proceeded against in any of Her Majesty's Courts in regard to any act done by him under such Rule or Regulation previously to the receipt of its disallowance by such Consul.

3. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul as aforesaid, upon information or upon the complaint of any person that a British subject has violated any of the stipulations of any Treaty, or of any Regulations appended to any Treaty, between Her Majesty and the Queen of Madagascar, or has disregarded or infringed any of the Rules or Regulations for the observance of the stipulations of any such Treaty affixed and exhibited according to the provisions of the next preceding Article of this Order, to summon before him the accused person and to receive evidence and to examine witnesses on oath, as to the guilt or innocence of such person in regard to the offence laid to his charge, and to award such penalty of fine or imprisonment against any person convicted of an offence against any such Treaty or appended Regulations, or against the said Rules and Regulations, as may be specified therein respectively; and any charge against a British subject for a breach of any such Treaty, or appended Regulations, or for a breach of such Rules and Regulations for the observance of any such Treaty, shall be heard and determined by the Consul without Assessors: Provided always, that in no case shall the penalty to be incurred by a breach of such Rules and Regulations exceed 500 dollars, or three calendar months' imprisonment.

4. And it is further ordered, that any charge against a British subject for a breach of Rules and Regulations other than those relating to the observance of Treaties shall, in like manner, be heard and determined by Her Majesty's Consul; and in all cases in which the penalty shall not exceed 200 dollars, or one calendar month's imprisonment, the Consul shall hear and determine the charge summarily without the aid of Assessors; but where a penalty attached to a breach of the Rules and Regulations other than those relating to the observance of Treaties shall amount to more than 200 dollars, or to imprisonment for more than one calendar month, the Consul, before he shall proceed to hear the charge, shall summon two disinterested British subjects of good repute to sit with him as Assessors, which Assessors, however, shall have no authority to decide on the innocence or guilt of the person charged, or on the amount of fine or imprisonment to be awarded to him on conviction, but it shall rest with the Consul to decide on the guilt or innocence of the person charged, and on the amount of fine or imprisonment to be awarded to him: Provided always, that in no case shall the penalty to be attached to a breach of Rules and Regulations other than those for the observance of Treaties exceed 500 dollars, or three calendar months' imprisonment; and provided further, that in the event of the said Assessors, or either of them, dissenting from the conviction of the party charged, or from the penalty of fine or imprisonment awarded to him by the Consul, the Consul shall take a note of such dissent, with the grounds thereof, and shall require good and sufficient security for the appearance of the person convicted at a future time, in order to undergo his sentence or receive his discharge; and in default of such security being given, it shall be lawful for the Consul to cause the person to be detained in custody until such security is given.

5. And it is further ordered, that if any person who shall have committed or been charged with any breach of or offence against the Treaty, or any such Rules and Regulations as aforesaid, shall escape or remove from the Consular District within which the fact was committed, and shall be found within another Consular District, it shall be lawful for the Consul within which district such person shall be so found, to proceed against him in the same manner as if the fact had been committed within such district.

6. And it is further ordered, that all suits, disputes, differences, and causes of litigation of a civil nature arising between British subjects within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, shall be heard and determined by Her Majesty's Consul, who shall be the sole judge and arbiter thereof respectively; subject nevertheless to an appeal against the decision of the Consul therein to the High Court of the Mauritius, in cases where the sum or matter at issue is of the amount or value of 200 dollars or upwards; Provided always, that the party intending so to appeal against the decision of the said Consul shall, within fifteen days after the determination of the case by the Consul, by himself or his agent, give to the Consul notice in writing of his appeal to the said High Court of the Mauritius; whereupon the Consul shall, as speedily as possible, transmit to the said High Court all the documents which were produced before him in the case, and none other, together with a statement of the evidence taken before him in the case and of the grounds on which his decision was formed, and shall forthwith notify to the several parties the transmission of the said proceedings to the said High Court: Provided also, that it shall be lawful for the Consul to require from any person so appealing to the said High Court reasonable security, to consist in part of one or two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the Consul, that such person so applying will duly prosecute his appeal, and will abide by the decision to be given therein by the said High Court, and that in case such appeal shall fail, he will answer and satisfy all costs, loss and damages sustained by the other party by reason of such appeal.

7. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to summon not less than two, and not more four, disinterested British subjects of good repute to sit with him as Assessors at the hearing of any suit, dispute, difference, or cause of litigation whatever of a civil nature brought before him for decision; and in case the sum sought to be recovered shall exceed 500 dollars, such suit shall not be heard by the Consul without Assessors, if within a reasonable time such Assessors can be procured: but the Assessors aforesaid shall have no authority to decide on the merits of such suit; but in the event of such Assessors, or any of them, dissenting from the decision of the Consul, the Consul shall enter the fact of such dissent and the grounds thereon in the Minutes of the Proceedings, and in case of appeal shall transmit the same to the High Court of the Mauritius together with the documents relating to the suit.

8. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to enforce his decision in favour of or against a British subject in a civil suit, dispute, difference, or cause of litigation, by distress and sale, or imprisonment, in like manner as a decision of the High Court of the Mauritius, in a civil suit is enforced within the same.

9. And it is further ordered, that in case of an appeal to the High Court of the Mauritius from the decision of Her Majesty's Consul, it shall be lawful for the said High Court, upon such terms as to costs and otherwise as it shall think proper, to admit any further legal evidence besides that adduced before the Consul, on its being established to the satisfaction of the said High Court, by oath or affidavit, that the party desiring to produce such further evidence was ignorant of the existence of such evidence, or was taken by surprise at the hearing before the Consul, or was unable to produce it before the Consul after due and reasonable diligence and exertion on his part, or where, under the circumstances of the case, it shall appear to the said High Court that further evidence ought to be received.

10. And it is further ordered, that Her Majesty's Consul shall have power in any civil suit, dispute, difference, or cause of litigation, to examine on oath, or in such form and with such ceremonies as the witness may declare to be binding on his conscience, any witness who may appear before him, and shall have power, on the application of any party in such suit, to issue a compulsory order for the attendance of any person being a British subject who may be competent to give evidence in such suit: and any British subject who shall have been duly served with any such compulsory order, and with a reasonable notice of the day of hearing of such suit, and upon his expenses of appearing as a witness having been paid or tendered to him by the party at whose application he shall have been ordered to attend, shall, on his wilful default to appear as a witness at the hearing of such suit, be punished with a fine not exceeding 100 dollars, or with imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days, at the discretion of the said Consul.

11. Every witness, being a British subject, so examined on oath, whether before the Consul or before an officer duly authorized by Her Majesty the Queen of Madagascar to act judicially, who shall in any such examination give wilfully false testimony, may be convicted of and punished for the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

12. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to promote the settlement of any civil suit, dispute, difference, or cause of litigation, by amicable agreement between the parties: and, with the consent of the several parties, to refer the decision of a suit or contention to one or more Arbitrators, and to take security from the parties that they will be bound by the result of such arbitration; and the award of such Arbitrator or Arbitrators shall be, to all intents and purposes, deemed and taken to be a judgment or sentence of Her Majesty's Consul in such civil suit, dispute, difference, or cause of litigation, and shall be entered and recorded as such, and shall have the like effect and operation, and shall be enforced accordingly, and shall be final and conclusive to all intents and purposes, and shall not be open to appeal, unless the same shall, within a reasonable time, have been ordered by the Consul to be set aside, on the ground that it is not final, or is defective, or that the Arbitrator or Arbitrators have exceeded their authority, or have been guilty of misconduct in the matter.

13. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to cause to be apprehended and brought before him any British subject who may be charged with having committed any crime or offence within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar; and such Consul shall thereupon proceed with all convenient speed to inquire of the same, and for such purpose shall have power to examine on oath, or in such form and with such ceremony as the witness shall declare to be binding on his conscience, any witness who may appear before him to prove the charge, and also shall have power to compel any person, being a British subject, who may be competent to give evidence as to the guilt or innocence of the party so charged to appear and give evidence, and to punish the wilful default of any such person to appear and give evidence, after reasonable notice of the day of the hearing of such charge, by fine or imprisonment, in like manner as is provided in Article 10 of this Order, and shall examine every such witness in the presence and hearing of the party accused, and shall afford the party accused all reasonable facility for cross-examining such witness, and shall cause the deposition of every such witness to be reduced to writing, and the same to be read over, and, if necessary, explained to the party accused, together with any other evidence that may have been urged against him during the course of the inquiry, and shall require such accused party to defend himself against the charge brought against him, and, if necessary, advise him of the legal effect of any voluntary confession, and shall take the evidence of any witness whom the accused party may tender to be examined in his defence; and every witness, being a British subject, so examined as aforesaid, who shall upon any such occasion give wilfully false testimony, may be convicted of, and punished for, the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury, and when the case has been fully inquired into, and the innocence or guilt of the person accused has been established to the satisfaction of the Consul, the Consul, as the case may be, shall either discharge the party accused from custody, if satisfied of his innocence, or proceed to pass sentence on him, if satisfied of his guilt; and it shall be lawful for the Consul, having inquired of, tried, and determined in the manner aforesaid any charge which may be brought before him, to award to the party convicted any amount of punishment not exceeding imprisonment for one calendar month, or a fine of 200 dollars.

14. And it is further ordered, that, if the crime or offence whereof any person, being a British subject, may be accused before Her Majesty's Consul as aforesaid, shall appear to such Consul to be of such a nature as, if proved, would not be adequately punished by the infliction of such punishment as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Consul to summon not less than two, or not more than four, disinterested British subjects of good repute to sit with him as Assessors for inquiring of, trying, and determining the charges against such person; and the Consul, when he shall try any such charge with the assistance of Assessors as aforesaid shall, if he is himself convinced of the guilt of the party accused, have power to award any amount of punishment not exceeding imprisonment for twelve calendar months, or a fine of 1,000 dollars; and the Assessors aforesaid shall have no authority to decide on the innocence or guilt of the party accused, or on the amount of punishment to be awarded to him on conviction; but, in the event of the said Assessors, or any of them, dissenting from the conviction of, or from the amount of punishment awarded to, the accused party, the Assessors or Assessor so dissenting shall be authorized to record in the minutes of the proceedings, the grounds on which they or he may so dissent, and the Consul shall forthwith report to the High Court at the Mauritius the fact of such dissent, and of its having been so recorded in the minutes of the proceedings, and shall, as soon as possible, lay before the said Court copies of the whole of the depositions and proceedings, with the dissent of the Assessor or Assessors recorded therein; and it shall be lawful thereupon for the Court, by warrant under seal addressed to the Consul, to confirm, or vary, or remit altogether, as the Court may seem fit, the sentence and punishment awarded to the party accused, and such Consul shall give immediate effect to the injunction of any such warrant: Provided always, that in any case in which the Assessor or Assessors shall dissent from the conviction of, or from the amount of punishment awarded to, the accused party, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to take good and sufficient bail from the accused party to appear and undergo the punishment awarded to him, provided the same or any portion thereof be confirmed by the Court, which punishment so confirmed shall commence and take effect from the day on which the decision of the Court shall be notified to the party accused.

15. And in order more effectually to repress crime and offences on the part of British subjects within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, it is further ordered, that it shall and may be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to cause any British subject who shall be found guilty of having openly offended against the laws of Madagascar. or who shall have been twice convicted before him of any crime or offence, and punished for the same, and who, after execution of the sentence of the Consul, shall not be able to find good and sufficient security to the satisfaction of the Consul for his future good behaviour, or who, having been deported under any sentence, shall during such sentence return, to be sent out of the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar; and to this end the Consul shall have power and authority as soon as may be practicable after execution of the sentence to send any such person to the Mauritius, and in the meantime to detain such party in custody until a suitable opportunity for sending him out of the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar shall present itself; and any persons so to be sent out of the said dominions as aforesaid shall be embarked in custody on board of one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or, if there shall be no such vessel available for such purpose, then on board any British vessel bound to the Mauritius; and it shall be lawful for the Commander of any of Her Majesty's ships of war, or of any British vessel bound to the Mauritius, to receive any such person as aforesaid under a warrant from the Consul to him addressed, and thereupon to convey such person in custody to the Mauritius as aforesaid, in the same manner as if he were a distressed British subject, unless he shall be willing and able himself to defray the expenses of his passage.

16. And it is further ordered, that in any case in which any British subjects shall be accused before Her Majesty's Consul of the crime of arson, or housebreaking, or cutting and maiming, or stabbing or wounding, or of any assault endangering life, or of wilfully causing any bodily injury dangerous to life, or of wilful or corrupt perjury, or of engaging in or being accessory to the purchase or sale of slaves, or of having slaves illegally in his possession, the proceedings before the Consul shall be carried on with the aid of Assessors convened in the manner aforesaid; and it shall be lawful for the Consul, if to him it shall seem fit to cause any person convicted before him of any of the crimes aforesaid, over and above any fine or imprisonment which may be awarded to such person, to be sent out of the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar for such time as to him shall seem meet, in the manner pointed out in the next preceding Article of this Order, notwithstanding the crime laid to the charge of such person may be the first of which he has been convicted before the Consul.

17. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consuls within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, upon information laid before him by one or more credible witnesses that there is reasonable ground to apprehend that any British subject is about to commit a breach of the public peace, to cause such British subject to be brought before him, and to require such British subject to give sufficient security to keep the peace; and in the event of any British subject being convicted of, and punished for, a breach of the peace, to cause such British subject, after he shall have undergone the punishment which may have been awarded to him by the Consul, to find security for his good behaviour; and in the event of any British subject who may be required as aforesaid to give sufficient security to keep the peace, or to find security for his good behaviour, being unable or wilfully omitting to do so, then and in any such case it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to send such British subject out of the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, in the manner pointed out in Article 15 of this Order.

18. And it is further ordered, that in all cases in which a British subject shall have been sent out of the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, as provided in the three next preceding Articles of this Order, the Consul sending him out shall forthwith report such act of deportation, with the grounds of his decision thereon, to the High Court at the Mauritius.

19. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to cause to be apprehended and brought before him any British subject who may be charged with smuggling or importing into the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar any goods whereon any duty shall be charged or payable to the said Queen, with the intent to evade the payment of such duty, or any goods the importation whereof shall be prohibited; and such Consul shall thereupon proceed with all convenient speed to inquire into the same on oath, or solemn affirmation, and to hear the witnesses on both sides, with like powers and in like manner in all respects as is provided by Article 10 of this Order. And it shall be lawful for the Consul, having inquired into and heard the said charge, to determine the same, and if he shall find the party guilty, if the charge against him shall be of importing into the said dominions prohibited goods, then to award him to pay a fine not exceeding treble the value of the said goods at the current price of the day; and if the charge shall be of smuggling or importing goods with intent to evade the payment of duty as aforesaid, then to award him to pay a fine not exceeding treble the amount of duties leviabie thereon, and in case of non-payment of any such fine or fines to award him to be imprisoned for a period not exceeding three months, or it shall be lawful for such Consul, without awarding the payment of any fine, to award that such party shall be imprisoned for a period not exceeding six months in such place as he shall appoint: Provided always, that no British subject charged only with importing prohibited goods shall be apprehended unless and until he shall have one week's notice to appear and answer the charge, and shall have refused, failed, or omitted so to appear.

20. And it is further ordered, that in cases of common assault it shall be lawful for the Consul before whom the complaint is made, to promote reconciliation between the parties, and to suffer compensation and amends to be made, and the proceedings thereby to be finally stayed.

21. And it is further ordered, that a minute of the proceedings in every case heard and determined before the Consul, in pursuance of this Order, shall be carefully drawn up; and be signed by the Consul, and shall, in cases where the Assessors are present, be open for the inspection of such Assessors and for their signature if they therein shall concur; and every such minute, together with the depositions of the witnesses, shall be preserved in the public office of the said Consul.

22. And it is further ordered, that save and except as regards offences committed by British subjects against the stipulations of any Treaty between Her Majesty and the Queen of Madagascar, or against any rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of any such Treaty or Convention, duly affixed and exhibited according to the provisions of Article 2 of this Order, or against any rules and regulations for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects being within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, no act done by a British subject within the dominions of the said Queen shall by Her Majesty's Consul be deemed and taken to be a crime or misdemeanour or offence rendering the person committing it amenable to punishment, which, if done within any part of Her Majesty's dominions, would not, by a Court of Justice having criminal jurisdiction in Her Majesty's dominions, have been deemed and taken to be a crime or misdemeanour or offence rendering the person committing it amenable to punishment; and Her Majesty is pleased to appoint, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, Her Majesty's Colony of the Mauritius as the place where crimes and offences committed by British subjects within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, which it may be expedient shall be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within Her Majesty's dominions shall be so inquired of, tried, determined, and punished; and Her Majesty's Consul resident in Madagascar shall have authority to cause any British subject charged with the commission of any crime or offence, the cognizance whercof may at any time appertain to him, to be sent for trial at Her Majesty's said Colony of the Mauritius.

23. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to cause any British subject charged with the commission of any crime or offence, the cognizance whereof may at any time appertain to him, to be sent, in any of Her Majesty's ships of war, or in any British vessel, to Her Majesty's Colony of the Mauritius, for trial before the High Court of the said Colony; and it shall be lawful for the Commander of any of Her Majesty's ships of war, or of any British vessel, to receive any such person on board, with a warrant from the said Consul addressed to the Chief Magistrate of Police of the said Colony; and thereupon to keep and detain in lawful custody, and to convey him in custody to the Mauritius, and on his arrival there to deliver him, with the said warrant, into the custody of the said Chief Magistrate of Police, or other officer within the said Colony lawfully acting as such, who, on receipt of the said warrant, and of the party therein named, shall be authorised to commit, and shall commit, such party so sent for trial to the common gaol of the said Colony; and it shall be lawful for the keeper of the said common gaol to cause such party to be detained in safe and proper custody, and to be produced upon the order of the said High Court, and the High Court at the sessions to be holden next after such committal shall proceed to hear and determine the charge against such party, and to punish him for the same, if found guilty, in the same manner as if the crime with which he may be charged had been committed within Her Majesty's said Colony of the Mauritius.

24. And it is further ordered, that Her Majesty's Consul, on any occasion of sending a prisoner to the Mauritius for trial, shall observe the provisions made with regard to prisoners sent for trial to a British Colony in an Act passed in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to remove Doubts as to the exercise of Power and Jurisdiction by Her Majesty within divers Countries and Places out of Her Majesty's Dominions, and to render the same more effectual."

25. And it is further ordered, that the High Court of the Mauritius shall have and may exercise, concurrently with Her Majesty's Consul, authority and jurisdiction in regard to all suits of a civil nature between British subjects arising within any part of the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar; Provided always, that the said High Court shall not be bound, unless in a fit case it shall deem it right so to do, by writ of certiorari or otherwise, to debar or prohibit the Consul from hearing and determining, pursuant, to the provisions of the several Articles of this Order, any suit of a civil nature between British subjects, or to stay the proceedings of the Consul in such matter.

26. And it is further ordered, that all fines and penaltics imposed under this Order may be levied by distress and seizure, and sale of ships, and of goods and chattels: and no bill of sale, mortgage, or transfer of property made by a party accused after his apprehension, or with a view to securing such party against any crime or offence committed or to be committed by him, or against the consequences thereof, shall avail to defeat any of the provisions of this Order.

27. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul, from time to time, to establish rules of practice to be observed in proceedings before him, and to make regulations for defraying the expenses of witnesses in such proceedings, and the cost of criminal prosecutions, and also to establish rates and scales of fees to be taken in regard to civil suits heard and determined before the said Consul ; and it shall be lawful for the said Consul to enforce by seizure and sale of goods, or, if there be no sufficient goods, by imprisonment, the payment of such established fees, and of such costs or expenses as may be adjudged against the parties, or any of them : Provided always, that a Table specifying the rates of fees to be so taken shall be affixed and kept exhibited in the public office of the said Consul.

28. And it is further ordered, that all fees, penalties, fines, and forfeitures levied under this Order, save and except such penalties as may by Treaty be payable to the Queen of Madagascar, shall be paid to the public account, and shall be applied in diminution of the public expenditure on account of Her Majesty's Consulate in Madagascar: Provided always, that in the event of any of the Malagasy authorities declining to receive fines payable to the Government of Madagascar as aforesaid, the same shall also be paid to the public account, and applied in the manner last mentioned.

29. And it is further ordered, that Her Majesty's Consul within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar shall, for and within the said dominions, and for vessels and persons coming within those dominions, and in regard to vessels captured on suspicion of being engaged in the Slave Trade within those dominions, have all such jurisdiction as for the time being ordinarily belongs to Courts of Vice-Admiralty in Her Majesty's Possessions abroad. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty's Consul to grant probate of will or letters of administration to the intestate estate of any British subject, or any native of a State or place under British protection, who shall die and leave property within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar; and if such probate or letters of administration shall not be applied for within thirty days after the death of the deceased person, it shall be lawful for the Consul to administer to the estate of such person, and for so doing to reserve to himself out of the proceeds of such estate a commission not exceeding two and a-half per cent. on the account thereof.

30. And it is further ordered, that a register shall be kept by Her Majesty's Consul of all British subjects, and of all natives of British-protected States in India who may claim British protection, residing within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar; and that every British subject now residing within such dominions who shall not have been already enrolled in such Consular register, shall, within a reasonable time after the promulgation of this Order, such time to be specified in a notice affixed and publicly exhibited in the Consular Office, apply to the Consul to be enrolled in such register; and every British subject, who may arrive within the said dominions (except British subjects borne on the muster-roll of any British ship arriving in any port of Madagascar), shall, within a reasonable time after his arrival, such time to be specified as aforesaid, also apply to the Consul to be enrolled in such register; and any British subject who shall refuse or neglect to comply to be so enrolled as hereinbefore mentioned, and who shall not excuse such refusal or neglect to the satisfaction of the Consul, shall not be entitled to be recognized or protected as a British subject in respect to any suit, dispute, or difficulty in which he may have been, or may be, engaged or involved within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar, at any time when he shall not have been or shall not be so enrolled.

31. And it is further ordered, that Her Majesty's Consul shall and may exercise all or any of the powers which, by any Act or Acts of the Imperial Parliament for the regulation of merchant seamen, or for the regulation of the mercantile marine, may now or at any time hereafter be exercised by any Justice or Justices of the Peace within Her Majesty's dominions.

32. And it is further ordered, that nothing in this Order contained shall be deemed or construed to prevent Her Majesty's Consul within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar from doing or performing any act whatsoever which British Consuls within any other State in amity with Her Majesty are by law, usage, or sufferance entitled or enabled to do or perform.

33. And it is further ordered, that every action or suit brought against Her Majesty's Consul by reason of anything done under the authority of this Order, shall be commenced within six calendar months next after the doing thereof, and not otherwise; and the defendant in every such action or suit shall be entitled to the benefit of the provisions made with respect to defendants in actions or suits in the said hereinbefore recited Act of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign.

34. And it is further ordered, that the word "Consul" in this Order shall include every person duly authorized to act in the aforesaid capacity, within the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar; and that, in the construction of this Order, words importing the singular number shall, if necessary, be understood to include several persons, matters, or things; and words importing the masculine gender only, shall, if necessary, be understood to import the feminine

35. And it is further ordered, that the provisions of this Order, relating to British subjects, shall extend and apply to all subjects of Her Majesty, whether by birth or by naturalisation, and also to all persons enjoying Her Majesty's protection in the dominions of the Queen of Madagascar. THE QUEEN'S DRAWING ROOMS.

REGULATIONS

TO BE OBSERVED AT THE QUEEN'S DRAWING ROOMS TO BE HELD, ON BEHALF OF HER MAJESTY, BY HER ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCESS LOUIS OF HESSE (PRINCESS ALICE OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND), AT ST. JAMES'S PALACE.

By Her Majesty's Command.

The Ladies, who propose to attend Her Majesty's Drawing Rooms, at St. James's Palace, are requested to bring with them two large cards, with their names clearly written thereon, one to be left with the Queen's Page in Attendance in the Corridor, and the other to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, who will announce the name to the Princess.

PRESENTATIONS.

Any Lady who proposes to be presented must leave at the Lord Chamberlain's Office, before twelve o'clock, two clear days before the Drawing Room, a card with her name written thereon, and with the name of the Lady by whom she is to be presented. In order to carry out the existing regulation, that no presentation can be made at a Drawing Room excepting by a Lady actually attending that Court, it is also necessary that a letter from the Lady who is to make the presentation, stating it to be her intention to be present, should accompany the presentation card above referred to; which will be submitted to the Queen for Her Majesty's approbation. It is Her Majesty's Command, that no presentations shall be made at the Drawing Room, except in accordance with the above regulations.

It is particularly requested that in every case the names be very distinctly written upon the cards to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, in order that there may be no difficulty in announcing them to The Princess.

It is not expected that Gentlemen will present themselves at the Drawing Room, except in attendance upon the Ladies of their Families.

The State apartments will be open for the reception of Company coming to Court at one o'clock.

BRADFORD,
Lord Chamberlain.

THE Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received, from Her Majesty's Consul at Bilbao a Despatch, of which the following is a copy:—

Her Britannic Majesty's Consulate, Bilbao, June 3, 1867.

I HAVE the honour to report to your Lordship that, according to official information which I have just received from San Sebastian, vessels consigned to that port will henceforth be permitted to perform there the three days' quarantine of observation to which, under existing sanitary regulations, they may be subjected.

This is very important to British ships proceeding from the United Kingdom to San Sebastian, as that port was not included in the recent Royal Order which added several ports in Spain to those at which quarantine of observation had hitherto been performed.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
June 4, 1867.*

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to confer the decoration of "The Albert Medal of the First Class" on:—

SAMUEL LAKE, of the Bombay Reclamation Company's Works;

W. H. MILLETT, Third Officer on board the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamship "Emeu;" and

The REV. CHARLES COBB, Rector of Dymchurch, in the county of Kent.

Her Majesty has also been graciously pleased to confer the decoration of "The Albert Medal of the Second Class" on:—

JOHN BATIST, Boatman at the Dymchurch Coast Guard Station.

JOHN DONOVAN, Chief Boatman in charge of the Old Head Coast Guard Station, Kinsale; and CHARLES SPRANKLING, Chief Boatman at the Burton Coast Guard Station.

The following are the services in respect of which the decorations have been conferred :—

1. The "Diamond," of Calcutta, wrecked at Breach Candy, near Bombay.

The ship "Diamond," of Calcutta, from Jeddo for Calcutta, having on board the master, his wife, the mate, and another European, a crew of 47 Lascars, about 400 passengers (Mahommedan pilgrims), and a cargo of salt, experienced bad weather, and being dismasted, bore up for Bombay. About noon on the 20th June, 1866, she was observed passing the Bombay lighthouse, but as it was blowing heavily, assistance could not be given to her, and she drifted on to the rocks at Breach Candy. A heavy sea was breaking over them at the time, the place being quite exposed to the force of the south-west monsoon.

Attempts were at once made by people on the spot to render assistance, which were not then successful: but on the two following days they were renewed, and by the unceasing exertions of those who took part in rendering assistance, the whole of the passengers and crew who remained on board (some having jumped overboard, and swam ashore, or reached it by means of spars, &c., and some having lost their lives in the attempt), were safely landed.

The rescue of the shipwrecked persons was attended with much difficulty and danger, as, in consequence of the heavy sea breaking on the beach, several of the boats were capsized and damaged.

Amongst a large number of persons, who rendered much valuable assistance on this occasion, two gentlemen, viz., Messrs. S. LAKE, of the Bombay Reclamation Company's Works, and W. H. MILLETT, Third Officer on board the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steam-ship "Emeu," made themselves conspicuous by their gallantry. Mr. LAKE took command of the first boat that put off to the wreck on the 20th June. The boat was capsized, but the crew were saved by clinging to her. He also formed one of the crew of another boat which made an attempt to board the wreck on the following day, but which became waterlogged and unmanageable, and was driven on shore where she was stove. The boat was repaired, and Mr. LAKE again went in her. This time she succeeded in reaching the wreck. Mr. LAKE volunteered to go on board for the purpose of giving confidence to the shipwrecked people. He went on board and rendered great service in assisting the almost helpless passengers into the boats. When it became dark he swam ashore, promising to go on board next day. At daybreak he went off again in a surf boat, and remained for some hours exerting himself in putting the passengers over the ship's side, until all had left the wreck.

Mr. MILLETT was in command of a lifeboat sent overland to a scene of the wreck by the Superintendent of the Peninsular and Oriental Company, at Bombay. Upon her arrival, on the 21st June, Mr. MILLETT, accompanied by Mr. H. B. Greaves, the Company's Dockmaster, and a crew of 12 Chinamen, proceeded in her to the wreck, and in two trips brought ashore some of the passengers. On the following day he made seven trips, and succeeded in landing in safety altogether 120 people.

During the time he was engaged in this service the sea was very heavy, and the boat was continually filled with water. On two trips Mr. MILLETT was washed out of the boat, and was with difficulty saved, but he continued his work until the last passenger was landed.

2. The French Lugger "Courier de Dieppe," wrecked at Dymchurch, Kent.

The "Courier de Dieppe," of 59 tons, with a crew of four persons in all, drove ashore at Dymchurch, on the morning of Sunday, January 6, 1867.

On the evening of January 5, a strong gale of wind arose, the weather became tempestuous, and the vessel was found to be on the English coast. The next morning the master failed to get assistance, and ran the vessel ashore. Attempts made to reach her by means of the Mortar Apparatus were unsuccessful; and the master, a cabin boy, and a seaman were washed overboard and drowned.

Soon the vessel parted, and a portion upon which the mate, the only survivor of the crew, had taken refuge, was driven within 50 or 60 feet of the shore.

JOHN BATIST, a Boatman at the Coast Guard Station at Dymchurch, clad in a cork jacket, and having a line attached to him, attempted to reach the vessel, but failed and was dragged ashore. The REV. CHARLES COBB, Rector of Dymchurch, then rushed into the water, made for the bulwarks of the vessel, and, after one or two ineffectual attempts, reached the survivor, who was in the rigging; BATIST followed, and with a line, which he carried with him, the French sailor was dragged ashore, supported by Mr. COBB and BATIST. Mr. COBB made this attempt in spite of the remonstrances of the people on the spot, and declined their assistance by refusing to take a line with him.

It was blowing a strong gale from the S. by E., and a heavy sea was running at the time.

3. The Italian barque "Thetis," in distress in Courtmacsherry Bay, Ireland.

The "Thetis," of 324 tons, with a crew of eleven persons, became embayed in Courtmacsherry Bay during a gale on November 30, 1866.

She had anchored in a dangerous position surrounded by reefs, and had cut away her masts when she was observed by the Coast Guard and Fishermen on shore.

JOHN DONOVAN, Chief Boatman in charge of the Old Head Coast Guard Station, Kinsale, endeavoured to prevail upon the fishermen who lined the shore, to the number of about 200, to launch one of their boats, well adapted for the service, and already on the strand, for the purpose of rendering assistance, but they refused.

DONOVAN then caused the Coast Guard Galley to be dragged across the land a distance of about one and a-half miles, and lowered over a perpendicular cliff about 50 feet in height. When this was done, he and four Coast Guard men launched her and proceeded to the vessel. On getting alongside, the galley was capsized and partially stove, but by good management her crew, who had life jackets on, got on board the barque, where they remained for some hours expecting that she would part her cables, owing to the heavy sea running, and a gale blowing on shore. She however rode till the weather moderated, when the galley was repaired and the crews of the boat and vessel landed in her.

4. Bridport fishing boat capsized at Burton, Dorset.

On the 11th June, 1866, the fishing boat containing five men ran for the beach at Burton. As they touched it, a heavy sea struck her and threw her upon the crew. CHARLES SPRANKLING, a Commissioned Boatman, of the Burton Coast Guard Station, who was near the spot, managed by great exertion and at some risk to himself, to raise the side of the boat which was washing backwards and forwards in a heavy surf, and thus enabled three of the men to get from under her.

The other two men, who had been injured by the gear of the boat, drifted into deep water, when SPRANKLING, who is a good swimmer, rushed into the sea and succeeded in bringing first one and then the other safely to land, but apparently lifeless. He then followed the directions given for treating the apparently drowned, and when the men had somewhat recovered sent them to their homes, and sent also for medical attendance.

In rendering this service SPRANKLING was unaided, as the men who succeeded in getting from under the boat were too exhausted to render him any assistance.

Whitehall, June 1, 1867.

EXPLANATIONS.

I.—NAVIGATION DUES LEVIED AT SULINA IN 1866.

These dues are levied by the European Commission, by virtue of Article 16 of the Treaty of Paris of the 30th March, 1856, to cover the expenditure devoted to the improvement of the Mouths of the Danube.

The collection is effected on the basis of the Tariff joined to the Public Act signed at Galatz on the 2nd November, 1865. It includes as well the dues imposed on the navigation for the local pilotage, and for the keeping up of the light-houses which mark the Danube Mouths.

In 1866, the gross produce of the dues levied at Sulina amounted to the sum of 882,697 francs $30\frac{1}{4}$ centimes. It is composed of the following items:—

	Frs.	Cs.
Dues paid by sailing and steam vessels (except packet boats)
" " packet-boats	856,599	$45\frac{1}{4}$
" " lighters	15,821	85
" " rafts	6,343	0
" " "	3,100	0
Police fines	833	0
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	882,697	$30\frac{1}{4}$

From this sum was deducted—

For local pilot service	...	Frs.	Cs.
For service of the light-houses	...	52,890	03
	...	46,578	26½
Together		99,468	29½
		99,468	29½

The net produce is then reduced to Frs. 783,229 0¾ or 65,817 ducats 25 piastres 37 paras.

II.—DEBT OF THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION.

The last term of the loan concluded at Hamburg in 1862, having been paid off, as well as the capital of 10,000 pounds sterling borrowed in London in 1865, the debt of the European Commission does not, beyond the credit of the Ottoman Government not yet due, comprise more than the sum of 45,000 ducats, the amount of the bonds at 10 per cent. issued in 1866, 20,000 ducats of which will be paid off on the 30th June next.

The loan of three millions of francs destined to complete the works of improvement of the Sulina branch and mouth having been perforce again adjourned, the Commission has decided to issue a further partial loan of 140,000 ducats at 10 per cent. interest, repayable after a period of four years reckoned from the delivery of the bonds.

The balance of the loan of 45,000 ducats will be repaid the 15th December, 1868, and the bond holders of the new loan will, from that date, be the sole creditors enjoying a preference on the produce of the tolls levied at Sulina.

This produce amounted

In 1861, to the sum of	62,038 ducats.
" 1862	"	...	62,773 "
" 1863	"	...	78,976 "
" 1864	"	...	92,885 "
" 1865	"	...	70,541 "
" 1866	"	...	65,817 "

The mean produce of these six years being 72,172 ducats, or about 858,850 francs.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
June, 26, 1867.*

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to confer the decoration of "The Albert Medal of the Second Class" on :—

JAMES HUDSON, an Apprentice of the "Maid of Orleans," of Ardrossan ; and THEOPHILUS JONES, of Falmouth.

The following is an account of the services in respect of which the decorations have been conferred :—

The "Marmion," of North Shields, on the 17th March last, drove from her anchors and was stranded on the Cornish Coast at Gylynvase, near Pendennis Castle, Falmouth. The wind at the time was blowing strong with squalls—the tide was first quarter flood. At ten A.M. the ship was in the midst of breakers, and often entirely covered with surf, and no communication with the shore appeared possible. The master and one of the crew died on board from exposure and exhaustion.

After an ineffectual attempt had been made to communicate with the shore by means of a line tied to a stool and thrown overboard from the ship. JAMES HUDSON, a youth of seventeen, an apprentice belonging to the "Maid of Orleans," then lying at Falmouth, volunteered to swim off to the vessel. He was at first dissuaded from the attempt, for it was thought that he would lose his life. But he persisted, and the Coast Guard attached to him their life lines and guided him afloat. He had neither jacket nor belt on. He was soon in the midst of a heavy sea, and in a short time got to the stern of the vessel, and after three attempts to reach the deck swung himself on board by the aid of a spar hanging over the side.

The line attached to HUDSON effected a communication between the ship and the shore, and six of the crew were rescued by a hawser and running gear then set up.

HUDSON was compelled, by his want of clothing, to return when he had been about a quarter of an hour on board. His distress in returning was great. He expected to have been pulled on shore, but the running gear had fouled and he was obliged to pull himself hand over hand along the hawser to the shore. He was very much exhausted, and without assistance would probably not have succeeded in landing himself upon the beach.

There still remained one man alive on board, but he was too weak to fasten around himself the cork jacket with which he had been supplied. In this emergency THEOPHILUS JONES, who had a line but no jacket or belt on, threw himself into the sea, and after two or three unsuccessful attempts, reached the vessel, and was lifted on board by the waves and by the aid of a spar which hung over the side.

He succeeded in fastening a cork jacket round the seaman and pushed him overboard, and this man too was saved. JONES was some time in the surf; he was very much benumbed and exhausted when he arrived on shore.
